SHAKEUP IN COMMAND OF JAPAN'S ARMY

105 High Officers, Including 37 Lieutenant-Generals, Put on Retired List

More Clashes On Siberia Border

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—One hundred and five officers of all ranks, including 37 lieutenant-generals, were placed on the retired list Tuesday in a drastic Japanese army shake up.

Those withdrawn from active service include—besides the lieutenant-generals—53 ranking officers in the field and 15 company commanders. Among those "purged" is Lieut.-General Tomoo Kodama, commander of the Seibu western district air defence headquarters.

BOUNDARY INCIDENTS

TOKIO (CP-Havas)—Dispatches from Hsinking Tuesday reported three new Soviet-Manchukuo border incidents, including a five-hour battle between 300 red army soldiers and Japanese-Manchukuo frontier guards.

The reports came just as the return of two Japanese messengers held in Soviet territory for eight days promised to relieve the tense situation along the Soviet-Manchukuo border.

One dispatch said that on the afternoon of July 22, red soldiers crossed the Ussuri River near the village of Yaolingtse under the protection of Soviet gunboats.

FIRES IN VILLAGES

The red army detachment is reported to have set fire to two Manchukuo villages before it was counter-attacked by Japanese-Manchukuo forces. After exchanging fire for five hours, according to the report, the Soviet soldiers withdrew, leaving a number of men entrenched on an island in the middle of the river.

The incident occurred near the scene of another alleged border violation July 21.

The other two incidents reported in dispatches today were of a less serious nature. The two messengers, after being held for eight days, were handed over to Japanese authorities at Changlin. They announced on their arrival they had been given no reply to their representations concerning the Soviet occupation of Mt. Changfukeng.

The Soviet police officer who brought them to the frontier said his instructions were merely to release them at the border and he knew nothing of any reply or other communication.

EXCHANGE OF BULLETS

Meanwhile from the Posselt Bay region, scene of the dispute over the Soviet occupation of Mt. Changfukeng, near the Korea-Manchukuo border, came reports of two more alleged Soviet troop moves into what is claimed to be the territory of Manchukuo.

In one instance red army men were said to have crossed the border south of Hunchun and retired only when fired on. In the second instance a stronger force of 20 infantrymen and 30 horsemen crossed again to a depth of 100 yards, but were driven back.

Disaster Averted By Police; Five Killed in Palestine Clashes

HAIFA, Palestine (AP)—Five persons were killed today in Palestine's racial conflict which took 65 lives in Haifa yesterday. Greater loss of life was averted when police found a time bomb in the crowded Arab vegetable market of old Jerusalem just in time to prevent an explosion. It was discovered only 15 minutes before it was set to explode. Police expressed belief the bomb was similar to the one which exploded in the Haifa market yesterday.

Runciman to Seek Sudeten German Solution to Preserve Europe's Peace

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain declared in the House of Commons today amid cheers: "Let no one imagine that though we seek peace we are willing to sacrifice even for peace British honor and British vital interests."

The Prime Minister was defending his foreign policy in the last debate before a three-month parliamentary recess. "Our aim is not the less peaceable because no one can imagine we have reason to fear any foe," he declared.

Mr. Chamberlain asserted the defences of the country became more formidable day by day and added:

"But while that tremendous power remained as a guarantee that we could defend ourselves if we were attacked, we were not unmindful of the fact that though it was good to have a giant's strength, it was tyrannous to use it."

CZECHOSLOVAK MEDIATION During the debate the Prime Minister announced Viscount Runciman, former cabinet minister, had agreed to become investigator and mediator in the dispute between the Czechoslovak government and its autonomy-seeking Germanic and other minorities.

He said the former President of the Board of Trade would work independently of the British government in an effort to solve the problem which was disturbing Europe.

Groups Fight At Rangoon

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—Reinforcements of British troops were rushed to Rangoon today when 40 persons were injured in a riot between Burman Buddhists and Indian Mohammedans. The clash, which occurred in the crowded bazaar area, was believed to have been the result of tense feeling following publication of a book by a Mohammedan, allegedly insulting Buddhism.

The Mercury, which flew from New York by way of Montreal, is scheduled to stop at Lisbon on the way from the Azores to Foyens, Ireland.

British Masons On Short Visit

Party Sightsees in Victoria and Calls at Government House in Few Hours

A party of British Free Masons arrived in Victoria on a hurried visit today, packed a great deal of sightseeing and a call on the Lieutenant-Governor in their few hours in town and left on the afternoon boat for Vancouver, en route to their homes in the British Isles.

They refused to be interviewed formally. They were on holiday, they said, and wanted to see as much of Victoria as possible.

They came off the Vancouver boat promptly at 7, and went to the Empress Hotel for breakfast, visited Butchart Gardens and then called at Government House. They came to Canada some weeks ago to participate in the bicentennial celebration of the founding of the first Canadian Masonic lodge on Canadian soil at Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia.

They said they were chiefly impressed by the Canadian Rockies, which exceeded their fondest imaginations.

IMPRESSIONS OF CANADA Lieut.-Col. Lord Farnham, provincial grand master of Meath, Ireland, said he had been telling Canadians he had two impressions of their country.

They were: "It was much farther across Canada than one would think possible," and "the beautiful things I have ever seen."

Sir Francis J. Davies, deputy grand master of the United Grand Lodge of England, expressed the party's opinion on newspaper interviews.

Forest Ranger at Sooke Reports Carelessness of Week-end Picnickers

Carelessness on the part of several groups of picnickers in the Metchosin district over the week-end brought a repetition of former warnings from the forestry department today that fires in the woods must not be lighted during the closed season announced by the government.

Major Porous, assistant ranger in the Sooke district, reported to headquarters here that he had to put out six fires in his territory over the week-end.

Each was a fire abandoned by picnickers without taking the precaution of seeing that it was thoroughly put out before leaving. Four of the fires were on the beach at Parry Bay and two on the shores of Quarantine Lake.

"The public must realize the seriousness of this present situation," said E. C. Manning, chief forester. "There is no excuse for carelessness of this kind and severe action will be taken if such cases are found out. Vancouver Island's wealth is at stake in her timberlands and people who will not take some precaution to protect this wealth should never be allowed in the woods."

RESCUES IN OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—Firemen rescued five persons and 16 others escaped in night attire when fire broke out early today in the Bank Hotel on the corner of Bank and Queen Streets here. Damage was slight.

FIRES FOUGHT IN PEACE RIVER AREA

EDMONTON (CP)—Considerable "rekindling" of bush fires in the Peace River area of north-western Alberta was reported here today by officials of the provincial forestry branch. In addition woods are burning along the Athabasca River north of Edmonton.

Concerned by continued lack of moisture in the northern part of the province, officials were taking every possible precaution against spread of fires and duplication of widespread blazes in June.

Fire Break Around Island Centres Is Made; Wind Feared

ISLAND FIRE AREA SURVEY

Unless Rain Falls Blaze May Take Weeks to Burn Out

(By Times Representative)

PORT ALBERNI—A personal survey by a Times reporter of the forest-fire menaced section of the island made from the east coast to here between dawn and noon today reveals the situation to be:

There is no damage to the beauty or growth lining the Island Highway except at one place—Oyster River.

There is no interference with tourist travel up the island. The destruction, except at Oyster River, is all distant from the highways. There is nothing to stop people from going to Campbell River for type or to other outing spots on the coast.

There is not the least danger of Courtenay being burned or surrounded by the fires.

The famed beauty spot at Elk Falls has been preserved unharmed.

Although the buildings have been burned at Forbes Landing, the natural beauty around the spot has not been destroyed. Outside of the burned buildings one sees little change at Forbes, the beauty of the whole setting remaining unmarred.

So far in the whole fire area there has been no destruction of homes or personal property of settlers, although there have been numerous evacuations because of fear of damage.

Forest Fire Made Little Progress Through Night As Wind Dropped; Authorities Still Continue Precautionary Measures of Soaking Buildings at Courtenay; Refugees in Tents on Exhibition Grounds.

Says Sabotage Not Widespread

Only Two Serious Cases Reported to Government Authorities, Manning Says

Reports of widespread sabotage among crews in Vancouver Island's great forest fire were denied this morning by E. C. Manning, chief forester of the province.

Mr. Manning said only two serious cases of sabotage had come to the attention of his department, one at Forbes Landing, when sugar was put in the gasoline tank of a water pump and the other at Elk Park, where hose was cut.

Whether or not there would be prosecution in these cases, Mr. Manning was uncertain. While department authorities had made a thorough investigation of the damage, it was difficult, he said, to choose an individual or any particular group which was directly responsible.

To attach blame for the damage in a general way to the group of fighters engaged in Vancouver, he said, was unfair, since there was no question that only a few of this group were involved in the sabotage.

Most of the 200 men engaged from Vancouver had been returned to the mainland because of (Turn to Page 2, Col. 1)

New Outbreak At Vernon Lake

(By Times Representative)

COURTENAY — For the first time since the outbreak of Vancouver Island's worst forest fire, protection officials at Courtenay today felt they had managed to establish a check on the flames and that the communities of Courtenay, Cumberland and Bevan were safe.

This safety, however, depended entirely upon weather conditions. Weather observers at Gonzales Observatory foresaw possibility of fresh winds late this afternoon and this evening, and it was this that the fire-fighting authorities feared most.

In Courtenay and Cumberland residents were relieved of alarm after special crews had completed a seven-mile fire break which separated these communities from the line of fire. The break also protected Bevan.

Precautionary measures were still being carried out in Courtenay, however, as hose was left on the sidewalks and pumping machines stood by for an emergency. Every morning the sidewalks and buildings have been sprinkled to prevent fire starting from flying sparks.

REFUGEES IN TENTS

The 200 odd refugees from Dove Creek and surrounding districts, who evacuated their homes as the flames approached over the week-end, are still housed in 25 tents on the Courtenay exhibition grounds.

It is expected most of these will be able to return to their homes after the fire danger passes. With few exceptions they have suffered no severe losses, except in instances where the flames reached their land.

The refugees are under the supervision of provincial police who have a force of 15 men on hand.

The Island Highway north of Courtenay was reopened today after the fighters had subdued yesterday's outbreak at Shelter Point where the flames traveled to the beach. Only bona fide tourists, however, are permitted to travel north, the ban being continued against sightseers.

It is now possible to drive straight through to Campbell River and Campbell Lake.

The fire break protecting Courtenay, Cumberland and Bevan is seven miles long and about 16 feet wide. It was made by caterpillar tractors and bulldozers, the last stretch being completed through the night from Bevan to Cumberland.

HIGH WIND FEARED

Officials believe only a high wind would carry the flames over the break. There are only a few spots where heavily wooded areas (Turn to Page 2, Col. 6)

SAYS SABOTAGE NOT WIDESPREAD

Inexperience in fire fighting, Mr. Manning said. This was no reflection on them since lack of experience in fighting fires was nothing unusual.

The forestry service had, however, been in a position where it could not take out time to train these men and rather than have them engaged without experience it was considered more advisable to dismiss them.

Mr. Manning's statement follows:

"Press dispatches from Campbell River report sabotage of forest branch fire-fighting equipment. The prominence given to these reports through our newspapers has, I fear, left an erroneous impression in the minds of some of our citizens.

"Two serious cases of sabotage have come to the attention of the forest service to date. Until it is possible to fix responsibility, it would be unfair to suggest that it is the deliberate work of any group or large number of fire fighters."

ent headquarters 14 miles west of the Ebro.

Many insurgent units had been pulled out of the long quiet area to aid the drive on Valencia to the south, and the government's surprise offensive gave the insurgents a taste of the tactics they used so effectively in the Estremadura region in southwestern Spain near the Portuguese frontier, where government lines had been weakened to defend Valencia.

AT MOUTH OF RIVER

The government reported the advance was general all the way from the Ebro delta at Amposta, at the mouth of the Ebro, along the curving course of the stream to Mequinensa, about midway between Gandesa and Lerida.

The Ebro has been the frontier between insurgent territory and government-held Catalonia since insurgent Generalissimo Franco's eastern campaign drove a wedge between Catalonia and the rest of Spain.

INJURIES CAUSE DEATH

EDMONTON (CP)—Mrs. Edmond Lamoureux, wife of a Gibbons district plumber, died in a hospital here today from internal injuries suffered when the buggy in which the woman and her two daughters were driving was struck by an automobile. Caroline Lamoureux, 22, was taken to the hospital suffering from shock while the younger sister, Irene, escaped injury.

PITCAIRN IN NEED OF AID

MEDIATION OFFER TO THE ORIENT

LONDON (AP)—In the Far East, Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons in his speech today on foreign affairs, Britain's services are available for mediation "when we see an opportunity which presents a favorable prospect of success." Meanwhile, he warned, "we are resolved to do our utmost to see that British interests shall not suffer."

Dictator In U.S. If War Comes

That Is Warning of Republican National Chairman Hamilton

SALEM, Ill. (AP)—Chairman John D. M. Hamilton of the Republican National Committee asserted today another war would bring the United States "under as rigid a dictatorship as the world has ever seen."

"It would be very doubtful," he said, in an address at the 55th annual Marion County soldiers' and sailors' reunion, "if we should be able to get rid of such a regime after the end of the conflict."

Mr. Hamilton urged Americans "not to be diverted from the pressing problems at home," adding this country "has no duty to police the world." He continued:

"If there is one question on which the people of this country are more nearly united than on any other, it is on the proposition America does not wish to have any part in the wars of Europe or Asia—nor does it wish any part in the wars of Fascism, Communism, or any other alienisms."

"Yet we find men in high places in this land talking about the necessity of this country taking the leadership in concerted action against the violators of treaties and joining in a 'quarantine' by the democracies of the world against the autocracies and aggressors. Such talk may easily lead to war."

President Roosevelt, in a speech several months ago at Chicago, suggested the possibility of a "quarantine" of aggressors. The administration's foreign policy has frequently been discussed since.

U.S. Bar Discusses Justice Hugo Black

CLEVELAND, O. (AP)—Two Alabama attorneys—one a "personal friend" of Hugo L. Black—attempted unsuccessfully today to obtain withdrawal of a proposed resolution to have the American Bar Association sue the United States Supreme Court for information concerning "eligibility" of its associate justice Black.

Edward T. Lee, dean of the John Marshall Law School at Chicago, refused today at a public hearing of the association's resolutions committee to withdraw his resolution. The committee will go into executive session later to decide whether the measure should be reported to the convention floor for a vote.

Six Hurt When Two Trucks Crash

LADNER, B.C. (CP)—Six men were injured, two seriously, when two trucks collided near this Fraser River delta town early today.

The two taken to a Vancouver hospital were Bud Wainwright, of Jubilee station, head and internal injuries, and Ben Rajne, Vancouver, concussion and head injuries.

James Barnes of Vancouver, Harry Murphy of Ladner and two men whose names were not learned were less seriously hurt.

According to police, six men were in one truck when the collision took place, involving a vehicle driven by Murphy.

Believed Island Residents Are Facing Severe Shortage of Food

NEW YORK (AP)—Pitcairn Island today was reported isolated from the world—the isolation Fletcher Christian and his mutinous band from H.M.S. Bounty sought in 1789, but which now might threaten the island's food supply.

Two failures to establish wireless communication with the tiny island plus the seeming disinclination of trading ships to call there, presumably because of false rumors of typhoid, have convinced Mrs. Dorothy Hall, housewife, the wireless equipment on the island has failed.

As a result she cabled Premier Chamberlain of Great Britain: "Pitcairn Island radio crippled. Urge you rush immediate aid, medicine and supplies; also investigate two-month 'trade boycott'."

MESSAGE TO ROOSEVELT

In another cablegram she said to President Roosevelt: "As a citizen of United States I appeal to you, Mr. President, to request immediate British government aid for Pitcairn Island. Islanders have appealed through me for medicines and supplies. No ship traded there since May 27 because of false typhoid rumors. Radio equipment now disabled and islanders isolated from the world."

Mrs. Hall, who operates a wireless station in her suburban Queens home, said two power failures presaged a complete breakdown of the island's radio communication system.

Pitcairn Island was settled by forebears of the present inhabitants in 1789. There the mutinous crew from H.M.S. Bounty and their Polynesian mates obtained the seclusion they sought until 1808, when their hideout was discovered.

President Roosevelt, to whom Mrs. Hall sent a message, is cruising in the Pacific. Today the cruiser Houston, carrying his party, was in the vicinity of the Galapagos Islands.

BRITISH CONCILIATOR IS SENT TO THE CZECHS

This step, Mr. Chamberlain said, was taken "in response to a request from the Czech government."

Referring to King George's visit to France last week, the Prime Minister said "the friendship of France and Great Britain was in itself a solid buttress for peace."

"That unity," he said, "was strengthened and confirmed by the conversations which took place between Lord Halifax (British Foreign Minister) and French ministers in Paris."

He declared there was no mystery about the conversations, adding that "there have been no new undertakings and no new commitments on either side—there was a general discussion of common interests."

Referring to the Sudeten German problem, Mr. Chamberlain said that "we have done everything we could to facilitate a peaceful solution."

Edward T. Lee, dean of the John Marshall Law School at Chicago, refused today at a public hearing of the association's resolutions committee to withdraw his resolution. The committee will go into executive session later to decide whether the measure should be reported to the convention floor for a vote.

He said Britain had impressed on both the Czechoslovak and German governments "our own sense of the desirability of restraint."

"We have noted with satisfaction the efforts which the Czechoslovak government has made and we have been happy to receive assurances, recently renewed, from the German government of their own desire for a peaceful settlement."

Summing up, the Prime Minister said:

"If only we could find some peaceful solution of this Czechoslovak question, I should feel the way open again to further effort in a general appeasement—an appeasement which cannot be attained until we can be satisfied that no major cause of difference or dispute remains unsettled."

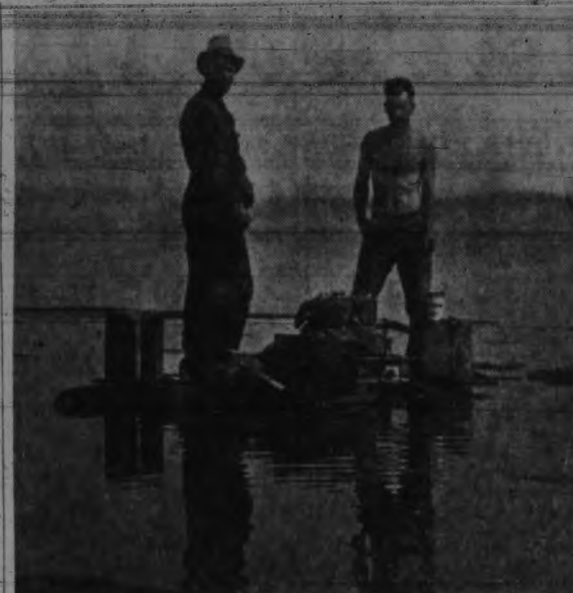

CONCILIATION

Political circles emphasized the duties of Lord Runciman would be "conciliatory" toward the "parties concerned." These are the Czechoslovak government, the 3,500,000 Sudeten German population which wants an increased degree of self-government, and Germany, which Chancellor Hitler has declared the defender of German minorities everywhere.

Mr. Chamberlain pointed to the Anglo-German naval agreement as demonstrating the possibility of agreement between a democratic and a totalitarian state and then threw this bouquet in the direction of Chancellor Hitler.

"In that agreement Herr Hitler made a notable gesture of the most practical kind for the protection of peace, the value of which has never been fully appreciated."

Japanese Move Up the Yangtze

SHANGHAI (AP)—The Japanese command announced its army had at least opened a path for a major offensive against Hankow Tuesday by occupying Kiukiang and thereby breaking the principal Chinese defense line in the Yangtze Valley.

Kiukiang is 135 miles down the Yangtze River from Hankow, provisional Chinese capital. The Japanese had tried more than three weeks to force their entry into the city.

The Japanese entered it Tuesday morning. The Chinese defenses had begun to crumble late Monday night.

Chinese claims to the contrary, the Japanese said General Chiang Kai-shek's troops were retreating to the west and southwest, presumably hoping later to swing back to the north to form new defenses for the capital.

MUCH SHELLING

While the army completed its occupation of Kiukiang, the Japanese announced related Japanese warships advanced slowly up the Yangtze and, with army and navy air forces, joined in shelling and bombing the retreat Chinese.

The Japanese said the fall of Kiukiang was the culmination of a forceful offensive begun last Saturday, when troops were landed on the west bank of Lake Poyang.

Capture of the city was said to have broken the Chinese defense line stretching from Kiukiang 90 miles southward along the west bank of Lake Poyang to Kanchang, the Chinese air base.

The entire Chinese positions in the Yangtze valley were wobbling, the Japanese asserted, and "it is only a matter of time until their collapse."

The Tokio troops claimed control of 450 miles of the Yangtze with "Hankow as the next objective."

EXPECTED SOON

PRAHA (CP-Havas)—Although the Czechoslovak News Agency (Ceteka) said today the government "had not yet reached a decision on the British proposal to send Lord Runciman here as adviser on the Sudeten German problem, Praha newspapers said the former President of the British Board of Trade would arrive in the immediate future."

A London dispatch to the agency said the work of the British adviser should begin "immediately, and not after a possible failure of direct negotiations" between the Czechoslovak government and the German minority.

If the British plan is accepted, the agency said, "the whole question (of the status of the German minority) would be discussed by the Czechoslovak government with the British adviser and the Sudeten Germans in order to perfect a compromise which might then be submitted to 'the Czechoslovak parliament'."

"London would offer its good offices to Czechoslovakia and Germany to persuade them to conclude a pact of nonaggression."

"During the negotiations the Reich would be expected to refrain from any intervention or pressure."

FRENCH VIEWS

PARIS (CP-Havas)—Great Britain's decision to send Viscount Runciman to Czechoslovakia to aid in bringing about a settlement of the Sudeten problem found favor today with the French press.

Le Journal, Independent, said: "Surely there is only one power with the authority and freedom of manoeuvre necessary to take this step, and that is Great Britain, since France is bound to Czechoslovakia by precise engagements."

"The coming of Runciman will create a better atmosphere," said the Petit Parisien, Independent, "and will provide an obvious test of the sincerity of both sides in desiring a settlement."

FIRES SPREAD IN CARIBOO

One Outbreak Advances on 10-Mile Front; Several Cabins Destroyed

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. (CP)—The most dangerous fire situation in the 90-odd years of the Cariboo country's history blanketed this district today in heavy smoke while reports of damage from raging fires continued to come in.

A falling barometer gave hope of a change for the better, but fire-fighters feared that if rain did not come the situation would get entirely out of control in this central British Columbia region.

A fire between Quesnel and Horsefly Lake, estimated to be 10 miles wide, menaces private property and if it jumps Little Horsefly River will threaten Delebough's fishing lodge and many settlers. This fire, north of here, has already destroyed several cabins and three trawlers on Quesnel Lake.

Other bad blazes are reported at Crooked River, 40 miles east of Horsefly, and at Peavine Ridge, Swan Lake, and Beaver Valley.

In the Chilcotin ranch country fires destroyed the winter ranges of C. E. Wynn Johnson at Alkali, of Francis Mayfield at Chilco and Ray Pigeon at Dog Creek. Many others are threatened. Great lengths of line fences have been destroyed.

Other fires are reported at Likely, in the Canal Forks district, 40 miles northeast of here, where three houses were burned, and at "Spanish Lake," beyond Likely. Mining and other operations are reported endangered. There are also bad fires at Springhouse and Meldrum Creek, west of here.

LORD CECIL WORKS

EXETER, B.C. (CP)—Lord Martin Cecil, Canadian ranching member of a famous English family, took regular shift today with forest rangers and railway sectionmen to defend this central British Columbia country from forest fires.

Lord Cecil, son of the Marquess of Exeter and brother of Lord Burghley, M.P., British athlete, has been in the fire lines in day and night shifts for several days.

He has ranged here for the past eight years on 50,000 acres of land with 2,000 head of cattle, and operates a guest ranch at this Pacific Great Eastern Railway point. The locality is also known as 100-mile House.

For a time the fire threatened the huge railway stockyards, but is now believed under control after raging on both sides of the Cariboo Highway which at this point is about 330 miles from Vancouver.

FIRE BREAK AROUND ISLAND CENTRES MADE; WIND FEARED

are on the south side of the break. A Victoria fire department reserve pumper stood by today ready to speed to Courtenay if any emergency arose. The services of the pumper were offered by Mayor Andrew McGavin in long distance communication with Mayor Stephen of Courtenay.

Mayor Stephen said the situation there was not one of imminent danger now, but he would call on the Victoria pumper if the need arose. It was estimated the pumper could make the trip in seven hours.

On the northern front, in the Campbell River and Oyster River districts, the situation was reported quiet and liable to remain that way unless a high wind renewed the flames.

In the meantime, however, Canadian Airways pilots reported at Vancouver today they had seen a fire near Vernon Lake in Central Vancouver Island which was throwing smoke 10,000 feet into the air.

The airmen reported they saw the new outbreak during a flight to Zeballos.

This report was unconfirmed by forestry authorities, who said the Vernon Lake timber was among the finest on the island, although practically inaccessible.

The plight of Vancouver Island's wild life which has suffered terribly during the fire promises to be among the serious aftermaths of the blaze.

CLOSED SEASON FORESEEN

Game conservationists have expressed deep concern over the extensive losses of deer and wild birds and it is considered almost certain that next year will be a closed season. There is a prospect of this order being extended to the following year.

Taking the strictest precaution against future danger, the government yesterday issued its third order banning logging and the use of the woods for any purpose.

The ban takes in the whole of Vancouver Island and the lower mainland where there is any logging.

PIPE LINE TAPPED

NANAIMO (CP)—Nanaimo's water pipe line was broken in an exposed section between Extension Summit and Berkeley Creek last week to supply water to fire fighters in the district, city engineer Andrew Graham told the City Council last night.

An axe had been driven into the top of one of the exposed wooden stave pipes on the supply line and water was being carried to the fire fighters in pails, he said.

The engineer said a fire fighter had informed him the main supply line would have been cut if the fire had further endangered the community of Extension.

These discoveries were made July 20, Graham said, but there is evidence of frequent tapping of exposed sections of the old pipe line to obtain drinking water, he said.

The punctures are invariably plugged but there is the danger that they will be blown out and water consequently wasted, he added.

New Police Boat On Trial Voyage

VANCOUVER (CP)—The new British Columbia police cruiser P.M.L. 14 was in port here today, after a trial run from Victoria. The big craft, which will shortly be placed on West Coast of Vancouver Island service, is under command of Corporal H. Raybone, formerly in charge of the F.M.L. 8 at Prince Rupert.

She was built in Shelburne, N.S., and is powered with a 500 horsepower Diesel engine with a Diesel auxiliary plant. There is accommodation for four prisoners in the forecastle.

After taking on a lifeboat, built here, the cruiser will return to Victoria, where she was recently rebuilt.

BOMB IS FOUND IN JERUSALEM

Jordan River near the Syrian frontier.

MARINES USE TRUCKS

Royal marines and police patrolled Haifa in fire engines and trucks.

Entrances to the Jewish quarters of the city were guarded closely, and Arab stevedores were confined to the port area throughout the night.

The death toll from yesterday's bomb explosion in the Haifa market and subsequent rioting was 61 Arabs and four Jews.

Egyptian air lines planes from Egypt halted at Lydda today, instead of landing at Haifa, because of dangers of attacks on passengers along the road to the Haifa airport, in the eastern section of the city.

Haifa bus lines to Tel Aviv and Jerusalem were suspended, and bus service in the city was restricted to urban districts.

English, Arabic and Hebrew newspapers joined in condemning the terrorism, comparing it with "the bombing of open Spanish and Chinese towns."

WOULD DISARM JEWS

The Arab paper Adifaa demanded dissolution of Jewish national institutions, disarming of Jews, and punishment of Jewish villages. It cited examples of similar punishment of Arab leaders and villages.

Three Hebrew dailies, whose editorials were almost identically phrased, said that "while our enemies will try to place this new outrage at our feet, we point to the fact that not one Jew entered that area (Haifa) since July 6."

The Palestine Post, the only English daily, said: "Madness has seized some elements in the country which no amount of reason explains."

"One of the most disquieting features is the infrequency of the apprehension and conviction of the perpetrators."

"Clearly the failure to unravel the true origin of these occurrences encourages desperadoes and tends to disrupt general security."

NOT IDENTIFIED

The Associated Press correspondent saw the bodies of nine women and children victims which were mutilated so badly they could not be identified.

Concerted Arab attacks on the Jewish populace were prevented by Royal Marines standing guard with mounted light artillery at the boundaries of Arab-Jewish quarters.

Guns of the battleship Repulse were trained on the lower section of Haifa, while the platoons of marines, soldiers and police patrolled the disturbed areas in armored cars.

A bomb exploded in the upper part of the city today, frightening the population, but there were no casualties.

Arrests of suspected terrorists on both sides were being made. Heavy smoke arising from incendiary fires in the mixed quarters of Haifa cast a pall over the city.

The city was gripped by fear of Arab retaliation.

Fixing Minimum Price For Wheat

OTTAWA (CP)—Rust and grasshoppers are slowly cutting down the prairie province wheat crop, but prospects remain favorable for a harvest of close to 300,000,000 bushels, in the opinion of Agriculture Minister Gardiner.

Mr. Gardiner arrived back in Ottawa from a western tour to join his colleagues in their deliberations at a cabinet meeting today on the fixing of a minimum price to be adopted by the Canadian Wheat Board for the 1938 crop.

Keen interest and anxiety among the prairie growers over the decision to be reached by the government is evidenced by the volume of representations reaching Ottawa urging the price be fixed at no less than the 87½ cents a bushel level which has been maintained since the board was created in 1935.

The minister would not divulge his personal feelings on this point.

SEATTLE CHILD IS HURT IN FALL HERE

Nine-year-old Aldyth Iverson and her parents are back at their home in Seattle today a day later than they had planned.

Aldyth was playing in the Beacon Hill Park playground on Saturday-afternoon when she fell from a swing and strained her back.

She was taken by her parents to St. Joseph's Hospital. She was discharged yesterday. The family had originally planned to return home later on Saturday afternoon.

Leaves to Attend Herbal College

VANCOUVER—Richard Hitchen, son of C. H. Hitchen, president of English Herbal Dispensary Limited, has left the city for London, England, where he will take the prescribed course of the Herbalist College, one of the foremost institutions of the world for the study of herbalism.

He will also attend the Medical Herbal Hospital and assist in the office of one of London's most successful medical herbalists.

After securing his diploma, he will return to Vancouver to act as his father's assistant in the work of the English Herbal Dispensary. Mr. Hitchen's preliminary education was obtained in Vancouver. He is a graduate of St. George's School, where he won the trophy for all-round athletics and later attended the University of British Columbia.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Every seat in the big gospel tent on Douglas Street was occupied on Sunday evening, when the special evangelistic campaign was launched in this city.

Alfred Mace of London, England, was the speaker and gave a stirring message on "Things That Go."

In the afternoon a well-attended rally was addressed by Tom Carroll of California, who gave an inspiring and helpful talk on "The Foundation of God Standeth Sure." A bright, cheery song service preceded each meeting, and in the evening a male quartette rendered most effectively "For God So Loved the World."

The next meeting will be Tuesday evening at 8, when Tom Carroll will speak on "Inexhaustible Wealth and How to Obtain It."

Judging by reports of fossil camels found in New Mexico, America once had camels so big that the head of a beast was a yard long.

STARTS STAR STUDY SERIES

Astronomical Society's Summer Course Inaugurated By Dr. R. M. Petrie

The first lecture in a course of summer evenings with the stars, conducted annually by the Royal Astronomical Society of Canada, Victoria Centre, was held last night at the Victoria College with Dr. R. M. Petrie as director. The subject of his lecture was "Learning the Constellations," which gave the primary steps in the study of astronomy.

He first explained that the series to follow was designed to acquaint the beginner with "the wonderful panorama of the heavens from actual observation."

WELCOMES OUTSIDERS

In introducing Dr. Petrie, Gordon Shaw, president of the Victoria Centre, welcomed the outsiders and expressed the hope that they would benefit from the summer course.

Dr. Petrie said that there were three types of persons who took up the study of astronomy. They were: (1) the ordinary person who had no knowledge beforehand of astronomy, (2) the student who in a serious manner attempted to master astronomy, and (3) the real astronomer who did not master astronomy but was mastered by it.

A series of maps and astronomical handbook for 1938 were distributed among those who enrolled. The maps were used from time to time throughout the course of the lecture to illustrate certain points. The speaker said that the motion of the earth is apparent to a person by the motion of the sun. Certain stars were not visible when they were not near the sun—in the day sky.

CONSTELLATIONS MOVE WEST

At the same time of night, from day to day during the year, the constellations moved westward. Dr. Petrie explained that to see a certain star a month later, after noting the time in which it was first viewed, it would be necessary to look two hours earlier. The sun moved one degree each day.

Several slides were then shown illustrating the changes in the constellations at different points in the heavens, and at different hours, days and months of the year. It was also explained how to determine the position of them at picked times.

The speaker explained the familiar constellation, the big dipper or great bear. He said that it has been called the great bear for centuries and was known as such mainly to the Romans, Greeks and North American Indians.

The next lecture in the series will be held on August 1, with H. Boyd Brydon speaking on "The Sun, Our Central Star." This will be held at the Victoria College, starting at 8.15.

Sir T. G. Horridge, Former Judge, Dies

HOVE, Eng. (CP)—Sir Thomas Gardner Horridge, one of three judges who tried Sir Roger Casement, the Irish revolutionist, died here yesterday at the age of 80.

For 7 years Sir Thomas was a justice of the King's bench division of the high court. Prior to his retirement in May, 1937, he was the oldest high court judge in England.

Before his appointment as a judge in 1910, Sir Thomas attracted attention in politics. As Liberal candidate in East Manchester in the general election of 1906, he defeated Lord Balfour, then Prime Minister, by a majority of nearly 2,000 votes.

GIRL FACES CHARGE

OTTAWA (CP)—A 15-year-old girl from Sudbury, Ont., who was an inmate of the Good Shepherd Convent here last Friday when fire partially destroyed the building, today faced a charge of arson in connection with the blaze, which caused $100,000 damage and forced 289 persons residing in the institution into the street. The charge was laid yesterday.

A. V. DALRYMPLE DIES

"It is better than the inside run to Alaska," said Capt. Troup, manager of the B.C. Coast Service on his return to the city today on the Princess Maquinna from her maiden trip to Holdberg, "and with the west coast provided properly with a good steamer there is no reason why the route should not become popular for a week's holiday."

Victoria will be the mecca of the Pacific Coast tennis stars next week when the annual British Columbia championships will be played off on the courts of the Victoria Tennis Club.

The reservoir at Smith Hill gained six inches yesterday for the first time since the hot spell and is now over eight feet deep.

An application from the Union Club committee for the temporary closing of Gordon Street between Humboldt Street and Courtney Street on the occasion of the ball to the officers of the visiting H.M.S. New Zealand, was turned down at a meeting of the city council last evening, but it was determined that the chief of police would give the officials of the club every assistance as far as the traffic was concerned.

Mexico Seizures Protested By U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Key Pittman, Democrat, Nevada, said today he believed the course of the United States' world trade might be affected profoundly by the controversy with Mexico over property seizures.

Mr. Pittman, chairman of the Senate foreign relations committee, said the United States could not permit the situation to go unchallenged because it would tend to "weaken, if not destroy, the rights of our citizens under treaties of amity and commerce throughout the world."

For that reason, Mr. Pittman said, he regarded a note on the land seizures from Cordell Hull, State Secretary, as not only a warning to Mexico, but a notice to all other governments that this country will not permit confiscation of American-owned property abroad.

Farm land owned by United States citizens, Mr. Hull's note said, had been taken over by the Mexican government since 1937. The secretary emphasized the principle that there should be no expropriation of property without immediate payment of compensation to the owner.

Failure to maintain this principle in Mexico's seizure of oil and farm properties belonging to United States citizens, Mr. Pittman said, would make such holdings the prey of unscrupulous governments in all portions of the world. The result, he predicted, would be severe crippling of this country's world trade.

Bernard Shaw Has 82ND BIRTHDAY

By JOHN CULMER
Associated Press Foreign Staff
LONDON—George Bernard Shaw was 82 today.

"People celebrate 70th birthdays. After that they leave you for dead," he scribbled in bright red ink on the margin of a well-wisher's letter.

But this was a milestone in the blustery career of white-whiskered G. B. S. He has had to take glandular injections for anemia. To the suggestions these were meat injections, the militant vegetarian roared: "It's a blazing lie!"

He lit into the British Broadcasting Company the other day, bitterly criticizing the 10 o'clock time for news broadcast.

"This island," he wrote to the London Times, "is inhabited by 46,000,000 of people. Its breadwinners rise at 6 or earlier to begin their daily share of the nation's work. Therefore, they have to be in bed at 10 to make room for their eight hours' sleep."

"The present rulers of the BBC, presumably belonging to the insignificant fraction of the population which gets up at 11 and goes to bed at 3.30 or thereabouts, have altered the hour of broadcasting news from 9 to 10."

London newspapers still eagerly seek Shaw's views on political subjects. Interviewed on Germany, he declared that country's contention of "race pollution" was "despicably unscientific." But he said he "appreciated" Hitler's political sagacity and the courage with which he had rescued Germany from the gutter, and placed her once more at the head of central Europe.

Wins Scholarship

Harry Keith Ralston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Ralston of 1256 Acton Street, who was the highest pupil in the Victoria district in the recent junior matriculation examinations. He won a $175 scholarship in the University of British Columbia. He will be 17 years of age in September and has distinguished himself all through High School, winning many prizes. Twice in succession he won the Joseph Rose Cup for Beta Delta oratorical contests. He took first year high by the correspondence course of the Department of Education because he was confined to his home by illness.

450 ATTEND NAVAL VETERANS' PICNIC

Leaving Victoria at 1.30 Saturday afternoon, 450 excursionists, comprised of members of the Naval Veterans' Branch No. 42 of the Canadian Legion, their families and friends, journeyed to Shawnigan Lake to hold their annual basket picnic.

After settling down in the Shawnigan Lake Agricultural Hall and the baseball field, ice cream and soft drinks were liberally distributed.

During the afternoon an excellent sports program was held and produced some keen competition. A brass band under the direction of James Mossop rendered selections. Many of the picnicers enjoyed swimming and boating during the afternoon.

Members of the committee which arranged the outing were: George Benton, chairman; H. R. Dawe, president; J. Whitcomb, Allan Ford, W. Dalloway, S. Ruffell, J. T. Jones, F. Biles, F. E. Elliott and J. Denniston.

SCOTTISH STAGE CONCERT AT CAMP

The men of the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish, proved themselves versatile entertainers as well as good soldiers at the annual militia camp at Sidney last week.

On the last night of the camp the battalion arranged a three-hour concert attended by all the units under canvas.

Sergeant Stan James was master of ceremonies and Lieut. E. A. Stewart chairman of the committee arranging the entertainment. Company Sergeant-Major E. Guyton was stage manager and electrician.

The performers included Tom Obee, Miss Betty Clair and her pupils, an anonymous gentleman introduced as Colonel le Marquis de Montague and his charger; C.S.M. Inglis, B.C. Regiment; C.Q.M.S. E. Chalmers, Canadian Scottish; Piper Macbeth, Canadian Scottish; R.S.M. Robertson, Canadian Scottish; Rifleman Brooks, B.C. Regiment; Sergeant Stan James, Canadian Scottish; Private Hines, Seaforth Highlanders; Lance-Corporal Creedon, Irish Fusiliers; the Rocky Mountain Rangers harmony singers; Sergeant Docker, R.M.R.'s; Sergeant Bundoek, P.P.C.L.I.; Bugle Major Hadley, B.C. Regiment; Corporal Fortin, Seaforths, and the band of the Rocky Mountain Rangers.

ONUS PLACED ON INDIVIDUAL

Government Sought to Encourage Initiative, Says Premier Pattullo

In dealing with unemployment in British Columbia the Department of Labor has endeavored to encourage individual initiative and place responsibility upon individual effort, said Premier Pattullo in an address reviewing the unemployment situation.

The Premier again advocated a constructive works program, referring to the Trans-Canada and the Alaska highway proposals, as means to providing stable employment for the unemployed.

Unemployment seemed to have reached the stage where it was a disease. Under the government policy there was no reason why anyone should go hungry, but the government did expect every man physically able to help himself. A policy of general dependence upon the government would lead to moral decrepitude of the individual and physical decrepitude of industry.

Defence measures could serve as a means of absorbing the jobless, he said. There was room for the addition of several thousand men to the militia, and the same was true of the navy and air force.

The government had taken measures to bring better conditions by instituting youth training camps in forestry and other lines, and the entire situation would receive further review in discussions with Dominion authorities next fall, the Premier said.

Report Soon On Hollyburn Ridge

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver will have an independent investigation of logging possibilities on Hollyburn Ridge, overlooking the north shore of Burrard Inlet. This was decided in Mayor George Miller's office yesterday.

Independent logging experts will be asked to submit a report on the practicability of logging on the ridge at a profit, as proposed by a United States lumber syndicate.

Nanaimo Water Pipe Damaged

A. G. G. Graham, city engineer, last evening told the city council a wood stave pipe on the main supply line had been damaged by an axe.

One valve in the Tea Swamp area had been continually tampered with, he said. Holes had been found drilled in recent days at other places along the main line, where the wood stave pipe is exposed.

Alderman Drake, chairman of the waterworks committee, blamed vandalism for the damage and said he regretted it was impossible to lay hands on the persons perpetrating such actions, which threatened the supply of water to the 10,000 persons in Nanaimo and district.

CHEMISTS TRACE FOOD POISONING

MONTREAL (CP)—Police chemists examined today the ingredients of a chicken stew in an attempt to discover the cause of a sudden illness that sent a family of nine to a hospital.

Anton Tkalec, 38-year-old unemployed laborer, his wife, Josephine, 36, and their seven children, ranging in age from three weeks to 12 years, were recovering from a malady that struck them last night after they had eaten a stew made with a newly-killed chicken and home-made noodles.

How Canada's Varied Export Trade Benefits Manufacturers, Retailers, Farmers, Workmen, All of us!

EXPORT orders quicken the whole business life of Canada.

When the farmer gets a good price for his cattle in Chicago or Buffalo, or when the orchardist sells his apples at a profit in London or Rotterdam, or the fox rancher makes money on his furs sold in London or New York, or the fisherman obtains ready markets abroad for his fish, or there is a good demand abroad for Canadian automobiles, then retailers in his community do better business. They employ more help, order more goods from the manufacturer, who in turn employs more help, and the help spend more money. Economists have estimated that an increase of $100 million in exports will in turn increase national income by at least another $100 million with possibilities of increasing up to as high as $350 million. That will give you some idea how important export trade is to the livelihood of our population.

The importance of export trade to Canada and Canadians in all walks of life, is fully recognized by the Dominion Government. The Department of Trade and Commerce maintains a force of experienced Trade Commissioners in every major trading country. These men serve to bridge the gap between the Canadian shipper and the foreign buyer.

Last year these Trade Commissioners dealt with roundly 10,000 inquiries from Canadian exporters and foreign importers. They aided directly in establishing 700 sales agencies for Canadian firms. They helped to secure substantial orders for many kinds of Canadian products, such, for example, as timber orders for shipment to Scotland, mining supplies to South Africa, poultry to England, fish to Colombia and Germany, potatoes to Hong Kong, lumber to the United States.

The success of Canada in opening up so many markets in other lands for Canadian products, both natural and manufactured, has been a remarkable achievement and has earned the respect of the nations of the world. Today Canada is shipping to other countries four million dollars' worth of merchandise a day. Last year Canada's exports reached the gigantic total of $1,124,960,000. More than a billion dollars! That surely is a trading accomplishment to make every Canadian proud.

Inquiries are solicited from firms or organizations interested in export trade.

Quebec's Women Revolt?

SIX HUNDRED REPRESENTATIVES OF the unofficial opposition forces in Quebec politics have been meeting in Sorel and have decided to recommend that the question of the extension of the provincial electoral franchise to women be submitted to the women themselves for their verdict.

The women of Quebec may vote in federal but not in provincial elections. This extraordinary anomaly requires all official reference works to announce to the world that it is "the only Canadian province in which women are not enfranchised or eligible for election to the Legislature."

The original resolution moved at the gathering proposed that women be given the provincial vote outright. Several women delegates ardently advocated this procedure. But a determined male minority opposed the inclusion of such a plank in the party's platform. Their chief objection was an insistence that the woman's place was in the home, raising children, directing the household, and that she had no time to study and understand political issues. The Canadian Press dispatch tells us that an "elderly male delegate at the back of the hall shouted: 'I oppose the vote for women for the same reason I oppose women carrying sacks of coal on their backs. It is a man's job.'"

There is no need to indulge in a series of comparisons of the daily tasks of the average housewife and the average male wage earner, any more than there is to embark upon a dissertation on the comparative masculine and feminine mental equipment generally. But the fact that the women of Quebec for some time have been smarting—provincially speaking—under the stigma of electoral discrimination, and want to abolish it, furnishes a commentary by no means complimentary to the menfolk.

To be permitted to have a "ballot voice" in the selection of membership for the Canadian House of Commons and to be denied a similar privilege in the election of the local Legislature is a condition wholly in conflict with the form of representative government of which this country is proud, and strongly at variance with Quebec's attitude toward wider constitutional matters.

Perhaps it is not out of place to ask, however, what the elderly male delegate who shouted from the back of the hall has to say about the women who work in Quebec's fruit canning establishments for 12½ cents an hour for a 50-hour week. This adds up to the princely sum of $6.25. Women with the vote, of course, might find a way to do something about this sort of labor exploitation.

Sound Philosophy

IN THESE DAYS OF EXAGGERATIONS in almost everything, fantastic conceptions of government, loose thinking, and all the artificialities of our speedy world, it is consoling to recapture some of the old-fashioned philosophy. Take, for example, the late E. V. Lucas's valuation of fastidiousness, and all it entails. Quoth he:

"What an awful thing it is to be fastidious, because truly wise people—and by wisdom I mean an aggregation of those qualities and acceptances and compromises that make for a fairly unruffled progress through this difficult world—truly wise people are not fastidious. They are easily pleased. They are not critical, and this is very important; they allow of no exceptions among human beings."

If ever there was a time when wisdom was most needed in this world, that time is now, not merely the kind of wisdom which allows "of no exceptions among human beings," basically vital though that be, but the wisdom which permits an accurate understanding of human values, and easily separates the high-pressure type of philosophy from the product of the balanced mind.

Too Bad About Mr. Aberhart

IT IS NOT SURPRISING, OF COURSE, that Premier Aberhart is nursing a grievance against newspapers and against newspapermen. His attempt to Hitlerize the press of his own province of Alberta ended in a miserable failure and, as he will discover in due time, may contribute eventually to a serious disturbance of his own political ambitions, always assuming he still thinks his particular brand of financial philosophy is workable.

Whatever may be the Aberhartian opinion of members of the Fourth Estate, there was no reason why a civil greeting by Vancouver newspapermen the other day should have been made the occasion for an outburst of the distinguished visitor's churlishness. Said the leader of Alberta's government:

"I've had enough of you fellows. I've nothing to say to you at all."

We could not improve on Columnist James Butterfield's rejoinder in the Vancouver Daily Province. He says:

"Perhaps he hasn't. He never has. As far as I have learned from a close study of his meanderings since a deluded electorate placed him in the semblance of power he has never had anything to say worth listening to."

"But when he says he has had enough of us he deceives himself. He hasn't had enough of us; he will have a lot more. As far as this column is concerned he will have plenty—and he will not personally be consulted about it. It will simply appear. He shall do the worrying."

Politicians and public men generally sometimes get a wrong conception of the obligations and mission of a newspaper. They are apt to think they have the ear of the people and understand their moods, that when they speak they have said all, that newspapers should be grateful to them for tapping what they think is the main reservoir of public opinion.

Perhaps Mr. Aberhart may realize one of these days that newspapers really do not have to ask his kind what they shall or shall not print—or tell all they know or hear.

Fair Deal for Sharks

ST. FRANCIS OF ASSISI, WE LEARN from the Florenti, once converted a wolf into a watchdog, partly by reasoning with the animal, but perhaps even more by persuading the scared townsmen to suspend their prejudices and give the poor beast a break. The world has had to wait for seven centuries for someone to perform a like office of charity on behalf of those dreaded wolves of the sea, the sharks. But at last the thing is being done, and that not by a saint but by a newspaperman, Virgilus Dabney, editor of the Richmond Times-Dispatch.

Persuasive conversation with a shark is beset with difficulties that for the present seem insuperable. However, persuasive arguments addressed to scared vacationers on beaches are entirely possible, and this is what Editor Dabney is doing, through the medium of an organization of his own founding, The Society for the Propagation of Truth About Sharks. No blanket defence of sharks is attempted by the society. It is freely admitted that sharks sometimes bite people. But their homicidal record is far below that of our fellow-men. We have greater chances of being sent spinning into eternity by an automobile than of getting a one-way Jonah ticket into a shark's interior. Eminent biological authorities back up Editor Dabney in this contention.

The ill reputation of sharks is based, he holds, largely on the hungrily hideous appearance of these restless fish, plus the universal human readiness to listen indiscriminately to gossip. A few species of tropical sharks, especially those off the Australian coast, have earned their bad reputations. We transfer their reputation to sharks of every description, including the harmless scavengers of our own coastal waters, especially those large, "mudders" which our friends at Parksville and Qualicum tell us eat barracuda for sports fishing.

As too often in criminal cases, we convict the accused before the trial. Something ought to be done about it, thinks Editor Dabney. And he is doing it.

Japan's "Control" of N. China

THE JAPANESE ARE ALREADY PRINTING pretty maps showing their control of North China. But it is not as easy to conquer a hostile countryside, full of guerilla fighters, as it is to draw up a new map. A cable reports that the unofficial Chinese governments that still exist in the area are so strongly established that "a fairly complete telephone system extends in some cases to within five miles of Japanese garrisons."

Is Haile Selassie being absent-minded or just sarcastic in paying his dues to the League of Nations?

"The Variation of the Affectivity Quality of Vestibular Stimulation With Chronological Age" turns out to be the title of a report on an experiment conducted by educators on a group of school children. Result of the experiment showed there was no year at which children ceased to enjoy activities which produced vestibular excitement, such as turning on piano stools and riding on the merry-go-round, but that the age was spread out over the whole range of adolescence. We're glad that's settled.

THE DRUDGERY OF PUBLIC MEN

From Ottawa Journal

In the House of Commons, Mr. Dunning became ill, wearied by strain and overwork. Mr. Dunning, victim of sheer drudgery and heavy responsibility, calls attention again to the heavy burdens borne by public men. Too often, in the public mind, those burdens are not understood. The public sees mostly the externals of public life; its glamour and acclaim; the pomp and circumstance of government. Too seldom it understands that behind all this facade of pageantry there is unending work; long hours, worries and anxieties, irritations, disappointments, the heaviest of responsibilities. No matter how competent the help, it is the minister himself who is responsible, who must bear the burden of every statement, the responsibility for every figure and conclusion and decision that the budget speech contains.

Thus during the past weeks, when most of us were in a position to take some recreation, Mr. Dunning had to work through the hours of day and night; studying intricate representations from this industry and that; dealing with a vast correspondence; attending to exacting duties in the House of Commons; mastering complex legislation; the while preparing his budget. No golf for him; no afternoon or evening motoring in the country; no long week-ends.

It might be a good thing if more of the public understood the truth. The truth that public life is a hard and exacting life; involving sacrifices, drudgery, a heavy strain upon health. Realization of that might tend to make politics a little more fair and decent, perhaps a little more chivalrous. Also it might give something of encouragement to public men if only they could know that their work was better understood and appreciated. Ignorant talk about men being in politics for "what they can get out of it," is a poor reward for faithful, able service.

THANKS

PEOPLE WHO HAVE been writing to this column in heavy volume lately, and getting no reply, must be told kindly but firmly that they need expect none. Perhaps they don't. Perhaps they just like to write to anybody and feel better after they have expressed themselves. Perhaps they regard me as a vast human sponge, capable of infinite absorption. I can see no other explanation for the laborious essays on Communism, Fascism, socialism, technocracy, democracy, wild flowers, birds and vegetable growing which have poured in here lately.

I just want the writers to know that I read what they write and drink in ideas until I can hardly keep sober on such strong stimulant; but there is no time to answer them. (I make an exception for the charming lady near Duncan and answer her question by saying that, alas, I have never fished for Golden Trout.) Anyway, I hope they keep on writing, even when they only explain their complete contempt for me. There is nothing like contempt to keep a fellow going.

What does annoy one in this business, however, is the unselfish soul, the crusader, who has a mission, some little pet cause like the salvation of humanity or the protection of the ducks in Beacon Hill Park, and who enlists your aid in the great struggle. You yield, because it is easier than fighting, and you insert a nasty paragraph about the salvation of humanity or the protection of the ducks. And, after you have violated your conscience in this fashion to please the crusader, he (or generally she) never reads it.

Not long ago, a prominent young physician appealed to me, almost with tears, and I wrote an impassioned plea for the preservation of the Beacon Hill ducks and their young, who are being slaughtered by sea gulls. A week later the physician almost assaulted me in a public place because, he said, I had never written anything about the ducks. I told him when the silly piece appeared and he said, oh, well, he never read the papers and probably the piece was no use anyway. After this I am crusading no more. Humanity and the ducks will have to look after themselves.

MURDER

TEN YEARS AGO the first giant maple on the lawns of the Parliament Buildings started to look anaemic and its leaves got brown. Alone I raised a cry of alarm, but no one paid the least attention. Brutally I attacked the Tories government for starving the trees and eventually, in a half-hearted fashion, it dug a load of manure into the ground, close to the tree trunk, where it couldn't possibly do any good. The tree died.

After a while the next maple also turned brown and again I raised my voice, but more feebly. This time not even a load of manure was supplied to the magnificent tree which had stood since Confederation times, though oceans of the very best were squandered on the rose beds a few yards off. The tree died.

All the maples along Belleville Street died one by one. The last died a few weeks ago, but nobody paid the slightest attention. Most Victorians haven't heard of it yet. No obituary was published in the newspaper though this was a real pioneer which had cast a friendly shade over the original Parliament Buildings, cooled the Fathers of Confederation. It was a much more useful growth than most other pioneers, also more beautiful, wearing a much more luxuriant vegetation even than they.

There is only one maple left now, only one relic of the early days, and the lawns are almost bare. It also is doomed because all our governments have conspired to starve the trees. No tree can live on a lawn where no leaves are left to rot and make new soil for it. In England, in any civilized country, those maples would have been more prized than any government, because they live longer and are usually more ornamental. They would have been systematically fed. They would have lived for hundreds of years. But we have starved them systematically to death. And we will starve the fine English oaks that have grown nearby on the lawns for half a century and all the blossoming trees, until the lawns are a dreary, empty waste. All the trees will starve, but the roses will gorge, as usual, on the best.

ENTERPRISE UNPROFITABLE

When they closed their books on the fiscal year recently, nearly every London newspaper found its 1937 profits had been hacked into by the heavy extra expense incurred in printing special issues during the coronation ceremonies.

WHAT TO DO WITH CORRIGAN

From Chicago News

Which should it be—blame or praise—for Douglas P. Corrigan's "outlaw" flight to Ireland in an antiquated plane? The feat was certainly a brave gesture, wild and generous and youthful. Yet our fliers can hardly be allowed to take such risks indiscriminately, without preparation, and without due notification to the authorities to whom alone, if anything went wrong, they could look for aid.

Addison, in one of his always enjoyable "Spectator" papers, recalls the story of a handsome young Spartan who, when the alarm was given of an attack upon the city, rushed from the bath, seized sword and spear, and dashed naked into the fray. Either because of his unusual valor or his unusual appearance, wherever he fought the enemy fell back. In recognition of his part in the successful defence, the city first rewarded him with a wreath of honor, then fined him no trifling sum for having gone unarmored into battle.

Perhaps some balance of justice no less nice can be devised to fit the appealing case of young Douglas Corrigan.

Victoria Poets In Large Anthology

CARLYLE STRAUB has just published an enormous volume of Modern Poetry as a Memorial to Edgar Allan Poe. When I say enormous, I mean enormous. The book is about five inches thick, beautifully bound—altogether an outsize de luxe edition.

The volume is divided into seven books. The first essays and biographies of Poe, the second, Poe's own work, books three, four, five and six are made of poetry by contemporary writers under the headings of Lyrics, Sonnets, Quatrains and Vers Libre. The last book, seven, is an addenda covering the "Raven" M.S. There is a facsimile of the newspaper the Evening Mirror of January, 1845, showing its initial appearance in the press and another reproduction of the little magazine the American Review in which it appeared first in that form. There is also a copy of it in Poe's own handwriting which is the most interesting of them all.

The volume contains poetry by Lascelles Abercrombie, Robert Bridges, G. K. Chesterton, Padraic Colum, Walter De la Mare, John Drinkwater, A. E. Housman, Vachel Lindsay, Archibald MacLeish, Amy Lowell, Masfield, Ezra Pound, Carl Sandburg, Elinor Wylie, William Butler Yeats and many more names.

FOUR VICTORIA WRITERS are included. Doris Ferne has a sonnet "Memory"; Audrey St. Denis—Wood—a quatrain, "Quid Nunc"; Pauline Havard, "Revelation" and Carmen Higgins now of Seattle, a poem "The Night" in the Vers Libre section. More than 40,000 manuscripts were submitted and only 700 used which says a great deal for the quality of the work turned out by the poetry section of our local Canadian Authors' Association.

It is interesting to note the new trend in subject matter among the poets. The war poems are still there, of course, by Sassoon, Rupert Brooke, Abercrombie and others, bemoaning the useless maiming and the horrors of the trenches, but in beside them now appear newer problems, such as that set out by this quatrain by Lucia Trent, "Hall Bedroom."

"He has been out of work these many weeks. She reads the ads and very seldom speaks. So day by day within this rented tomb. They bark their shins against the edge of doom."

Gertrude Stein has contributed to the vers libre section with a little piece entitled "Stanzas in Meditation."

Stanza 1
Stanza ten makes a hen
Stanza third makes a bird
Stanza first makes a dog
Stanza what makes it heard
That I will not only go there

Stanza 2

CATS AND BIRDS

To the Editor:—A summer school lecturer, in a double-edged attack on predatory cats, tells the teacher-students that the only birds definitely injurious to man are crows and magpies. Whereas a friend told me last night that all his early peas had been eaten by quail, and showed me a row of late lettuce entirely eaten-up by sparrows.

ELEGY

To the Editor:—"Twice the night before payday, and all through my jeans I hunted in vain for the price of some beans. Not a quarter was stirring, not even a lit. The kale was off duty; dull edges had quit. Onward! Speed onward! O Time, in thy flight, make it tomorrow, just for tonight."
ALBERT MONTGOMERY.

LONDON REPLANNING

Special London Correspondence
Londoners are promised a new city. Rebuilding plans have been drawn up by Sir Charles Bessrey. The need for a new road link between the centre of London and its main airport is urgent. New airlines ordered for British Airways will this year bridge the 205 miles from Croydon to Paris in 50 minutes. Yet it still takes 50 minutes to be driven the 12 miles from Piccadilly to Croydon.

"There is a new technique in the art of campaigning for public office. The new technique is telling the truth."—Fiorello H. LaGuardia.

"LORD JEFF"

To the Editor:—Mrs. Hobday and I were recently in Hollywood four months as honorary advisers in the production of a feature film starring Freddie Bartholomew, entitled "Lord Jeff," in which he was supported by Mickey Rooney and the new "boy find," Terry Kilburn.

The background of the picture is laid in a branch of the Barnado Homes in England which trains as sailors.

It is a fine story, good fun, instructive and, as Augustus Bridle said in the Toronto Star, "So amazingly simple in emotions, that the preview audience last week warmly applauded at the finale. It is the first film ever dedicated to a philanthropist."

Dr. Barnado was a pioneer of the "cottage system," and when he died in 1905 he had helped 60,000 needy little children. Since then the total has grown to 122,000 boys and girls.

Wallace Ford, the well-known Hollywood film star, recently appearing in "Of Mice and Men," in New York, was brought to Canada as a Barnado boy and first suggested the film, "Lord Jeff." He rejoices in its success.

THE DANGEROUS AGE

From Toronto Star

A son of W. G. Grace, the famous English cricketer of some generations ago, dropped dead the other night after leaving the wicket. He was 56. At Toronto a citizen of 54 dropped dead a day or so earlier after completing a set of tennis. Many doctors are now advising that violent exercise cease at 50 or earlier, and the advice is probably good. But exercise in moderation continues to be beneficial.

THANKS FOR JOBLESS AID

To the Editor:—We hope you will grant us space that we may extend to the people of Victoria our sincere thanks for the generous assistance which they so readily gave to our members who formed part of the recent unemployed trek to Victoria.

Their aid in this matter is greatly appreciated by all our members who realize that, without the help of the people of Victoria (not forgetting the other island towns en route), we could not have been so successful in our efforts.

Better English

By Dr. C. WILLIAMS

1. What is wrong with this sentence? "I laid on the bed for an hour and read."

2. What is the correct pronunciation of "chef"?

3. Which one of these words is misspelled? Sodder, socialism, soliloquy.

4. What does the word "aggragate" (noun) mean?

5. What is a word beginning with imm that means "spotless"?

ANSWERS

1. Say, "I lay on the bed." 2. Pronounce chef, e as in self, and not cheif. 3. Sodder. 4. A mass, assemblage, or sum of particulars. "Human wisdom is the aggregate of all human experience." 5. Immaculate.

Year of Conflict Builds "Incident" Into Major War

The vast scope of the Japanese plan to dominate eastern Asia is shown by the above map. Note that even the tremendous gulf bitten off from northern and eastern China thus far is overshadowed by the great field in which responsible Japanese officials have indicated their armies may operate in the near future. It would include the entire coastal plain and all the essential harbors on the Pacific. Note how Japanese drives on Hankow and Sian are aimed at cutting off foreign sources of munitions and supplies, main entrance routes of which are indicated by arrows. The fate of Asia and to some extent that of the whole world is bound up in the success or failure of the Japanese plan, the status of which, after a year of bloody warfare, is graphically shown above.

By WILLIS THORNTON

A FULL YEAR of bloody fighting across the best farmlands and through the mightiest cities of China has produced results whose long-time meaning no man can read. But there are other results, since the "border incident" of last July 7, which can be read all too clearly. Here are some of them:

At least 200,000 men lie dead. The ashes of 75,000 Japanese have been shipped home in neat little urns. More than 125,000 Chinese have rotted where they fell. Far more than 500,000 on both sides have suffered wounds.

Unnumbered thousands of men, women and children are dead or maimed, bombed in their homes and streets.

The proudest cities of China—Peking, Tientsin, Shanghai and Nanking—have fallen before the invader. Nanking, in addition to the expected horrors of war, suffered the unbridled bestialities of a soldiery whose discipline completely broke down.

Of China's 1,500,000 square miles, about 300,000 are under Japanese bayonets, with Japanese diplomats desperately trying to establish puppet governments there.

Sixteen million people have fled from their homes in the Shanghai-Nanking area to congregate in the interior, menaced by hunger and disease. In addition to the destruction caused by the fighting, a least $500,000,000 worth of damage has been done by the retreating Chinese in their effort

CHINESE WAR AT A GLANCE

July 7, 1937—"Border incident" near Peking starts war in north.

Aug. 13, 1937—Shanghai attack opens southern phase of war.

Aug. 28, 1937—Nankow Pass taken; Japanese begin to overrun northern provinces.

Oct. 26, 1937—Tazang stormed; Chinese retreat from Shanghai begins.

Nov. 9, 1937—Fall of Taiyuan.

Dec. 12, 1937—U.S. gunboat Panay bombed and sunk. Nanking taken by Japanese.

March 10, 1938—Northern army reaches Yellow River.

April 6, 1938—Chinese victory at Taierchwang.

May 20, 1938—Suchow taken.

June 1, 1938—Canton bombed.

June 6, 1938—Kaifeng taken.

June 29, 1938—Japanese begin blasting their way through fort defenses below Hankow.

to make all land captured by the Japanese a worthless rubble of ruins and smoldering ashes. Deliberate floods released by the Chinese to check the invaders have wrought further ruin. A terrifying proportion of the best farm land and the most productive factories and mills in China lie in ruins.

Yet not a single large Chinese army has been captured or put out of action, and responsible Japanese officials have called on their people to prepare for a 10-year war.

JAPANESE TREASURY STRAINED

In Japan, the military has gained complete control of the government, and, sobered by the realization that it has floundered into a major war, has clamped down on the people a rigid war-time discipline and industrial and military mobilization.

An overseas war costing the Japanese $5,000,000 a day is sapping the resources of the island empire, while the tremendous strain of supplying an expeditionary force of at least 1,000,000 men so taxes Japanese industry that some of its hard-won foreign trade is slipping away.

China, on the other hand, seems united as never before. Cannon-fodder available for her armies is limited only by the facilities to train and arm men. Hitherto bitter political enemies have been united in resistance; the political future of China has been changed no matter how the war comes out.

YEAR'S TRAIL OF DEATH AND RUIN

All this is not yet officially a war. The "border incident" on the night of July 7 near the Marco Polo Bridge at Peking might have been no more than that.

As few Japanese troops at manoeuvres were fired upon. The shooting spread. And within a month Japan controlled the entire Peking-Tientsin area. It appears that Japan might have been satisfied with this, but by that time so many Chinese troops were moving in from all parts of China that the only way for Japan to keep what she had was to take more. Gradually the war became general.

Westward and southward pressed the eager Japanese troops. On Aug. 28 the Nankow Pass was forced, gateway to the west. Southward toward Taiyuan rolled the invaders.

But in the meantime it became clear that to hold the north, aid from the south would have to be cut off. Opportunity soon came. A Japanese adherent was killed at the Hungjiao airport at Shanghai, creating another "incident." An Aug. 11 a waiting naval force was landed at Shanghai.

Within two days a desperate battle developed, with Chinese troops rushed in to repel the invaders. Air bombing killed thousands of civilians, endangered or destroyed foreign property. It took two months to drive the Chinese troops out of Shanghai and into a westward retreat.

On Dec. 13 Nanking also was taken, and the conquering troops ran riot in a frenzy of looting and terrorism. By this time the northern provinces had been conquered, and the Japanese vanguard was approaching the Yellow River on its way southward. Through the bitter winter weather the armies remained locked in continual conflict. On Dec. 12 the U.S. gunboat Panay was bombed and sunk in the Yangtze by Japanese planes.

FUTURE OF WORLD MAY BE AT STAKE

The Japanese spring campaign was aimed at uniting the northern and southern armies, and from Tsingtao Japanese troops gradually absorbed the line of the Lunghai Railroad, principal Chinese east-west artery. Resistance was bitter, and in April China scored its most notable military success by routing and almost wiping out a Japanese force at Taierchwang.

Japan poured in strong reinforcements to storm Suchow and Changchow, closing the gap between the Japanese armies.

Present Japanese operations are along the Yangtze River, aimed at Hankow, provisional capital of the Chiang Kai-shek regime.

Japan probably has 750,000 soldiers in China proper, and must keep around 250,000 in Manchukuo and the northern provinces to fight off guerrillas, maintain order, and be ready for a possible attack from Russia.

The "border incident" which Japan evidently expected could be quickly concluded by swift strokes of a small force has been expanded into a major war, with the future of China, Japan, all of Asia, and perhaps of the entire world, at stake.

PATTULLO WILL VISIT POTLATCH

Lending an international flavor to Seattle's 1938 Potlatch of Progress, Premier Pattullo, with a detachment of mounted B.C. Police will take part in the big parade in Seattle on Friday.

The parade will be one of the highlights of the four-day festival in the sound city. Premier Pattullo will ride with Governor Clarence D. Martin and Mayor A. B. Langille. The Premier will drive to Seattle from Vancouver, being met at the Blaine Peace Arch by the reception committee of the festival with a uniformed patrol of the state police.

You'll be delighted with the Horticultural Show at Willows, Main Building, July 29-30. ***

Letters to the Editor

GORGEOUS COSTUMES

To the Editor:—The gorgeous, 17th century Chinese costumes to be shown here during the concert on Thursday evening at the Victoria High School belong to the famous fourth period in the history of Chinese drama.

According to mainland adjudicators, they are some of the most colorful and the most beautifully embroidered garments ever used on the stage.

Apparently the noted Chinese collection at the Toronto museum for the same period finds them difficult to surpass, both in beauty and brilliance.

As members of the cast are arranging to absorb the cost of bringing these costumes onto the stage, the entire returns from the sale of tickets to the concert will go to the aid of those millions of unfortunate war refugees.

The other participants in the Russian dances, orchestral selections and vocal solos are also donating their services, of course, for Thursday evening at the High School auditorium.

MUN HOPE.

"THOSE BAD BOYS"

To the Editor:—Permit me to draw the attention of your readers to a glaring headline over a letter contributed to a Vancouver daily recently by Lt.-Col. Moore (R.L.). The title given to this letter, "Do You Forgive Those Bad Boys?" seems to be in bad taste. In fact, the entire letter seems to appeal to barbarism, and contains not one item of humanitarian idealism.

Lt.-Col. Moore should realize these boys were the victims of circumstances, even to their being clubbed by police of a government on many occasions referred to as a 37 1/2 per cent government. He seems to place much more of a value on the "priceless treasures" of the Vancouver Art Gallery than on the lives of the boys.

JOHN McDERMOTT.

674 Battery Street.

WHY NOT?

To the Editor:—Canada's greatest need today is roads, and more roads. Why not start a highway from Vancouver to Halifax? Construction to begin immediately.

I have no idea what such a road would cost, but I am positive that, whatever the cost, it would be worth ten times the amount as soon as it was completed. In fact, every complete mile of it would be worth far more than its cost. Think of the work it would create, the thousands of men who would be employed on its construction. Think of the machinery, cement, equipment of all kinds which would be needed; every piece of which could be made in Canada, of Canadian raw materials.

Every soul in Canada would benefit immediately, because of improved conditions, and because every able-bodied man would be able to get off the relief roll, and on to the purchasing side.

Can you really think that we, who own this enormously wealthy country, cannot finance the roads needed to open it up?

Why should Canada have to borrow any money from anyone when she owns all this tremendous wealth? Why should not Canada write her own cheque for a thousand million dollars, or whatever the cost of the road would be, or print her own bank notes to that value? Any person in Canada will gladly accept a Canadian government bank note, because he knows that the whole country is behind it. There is no need to have what, I believe, bankers call "gold coverage" behind any piece of paper which bears the signature of the Canadian people. That old idea is worn out now. What fools we have been, haven't we? Slaving to get gold out of one hole, only to put it into another one; and all the time kidding ourselves, or allowing ourselves to be kidded that we must have the gold in the second hole before it is any use to us.

It is high-time we began to use our common sense, and our real credit, which means our natural resources, our people, and our work and energy, as our means of exchange.

Can anyone tell me why such a scheme as this will not work? E. W. ABRAHAM.

SICK BODY POLITIC

To the Editor:—The "body politic" has reached a condition when it is really sick. It has, in fact, been taking the wrong diet, and unless that diet is changed to a more wholesome, evenly balanced one, nothing but a major operation can save the patient from a complete breakdown. To keep applying salve externally, when the trouble is deep-seated is futile and the method of quacks or irresponsible physicians.

Surely those in authority must know that were work to be obtained in the interior of the province, or in other provinces for that matter, the majority of these unemployed would not have flocked to the coast.

It is useless to keep saying that these young men do not want work, for common sense must tell the government that these lads are just as anxious to court the company of the opposite sex as ever these cabinet ministers were in their youth. These lads know that they need money in their pockets to take a girl to a movie or a dance and that a job is essential if they are to contemplate marriage and a home. Does an economic depression change the fundamental urges of youth?

We say we do not want revolution—that is, a violent one—as a revolution in our methods of administering the fruits of the earth and the products of man's toil is absolutely necessary—but we are sowing the seeds that can produce only violence, as fast and as carelessly as ever we can.

Surely no more puerile excuse was ever given by any cabinet minister for failing to keep his word or to efficiently handle a serious situation, as that uttered by our Minister of Labor.

In what other manner would we expect these homeless, unemployed, ostracized lads to travel across the country in search of work but in bands? Is there any pleasure in roaming the roads by one's self, miserable, dejected and broke? In the unemployment situation, as in business, or anything else, unity means strength. Would one man, or half a dozen men, have any real notice taken of their demands for work? Surely not. This is economic war, and numerical strength, unity of purpose and carefully planned strategy is of major importance, as in any other war. These lads are no more lacking in brains than we are, for which we may be thankful for the future of the race.

There is only one way to end this unemployment trouble, this cabinet nightmare, and that is to remove the cause—no easy task one must admit—but the issue must be faced sooner or later, so why keep putting it off, hiding inefficiency or laissez faire behind a smoke screen of propaganda against the unfortunate unemployed.

REPAIR JOB

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP)—Columbus garagemen are faced with a new wrinkle—how to repair an automobile that Big Mabel, four-ton elephant, mistook for a chair. The huge animal was bumped from behind during a circus parade here and promptly sat down on the offending flyover. Occupants of the car were not hurt, but the hood, fenders and wheels are a mass of twisted iron and wood.

What Do You Want Most When You Buy a Diamond?

"Brilliance" is the answer of most people. And rightly so, because brilliance is of major consideration in determining the value of a diamond. A diamond may be perfect and yet be dull and lifeless. ROSE'S high standards of quality require perfect cutting as well as freedom from flaws. As a basis for the finer judgments of color and brilliance that distinguish ROSE'S selection of diamonds. Moose to Meet Here Next Year

Local Women Win Honors at Tacoma Convention

With over 1,000 members, representing over 25 chapters of the Women of the Moose and lodges, Saturday brought to a most successful close the three-day conference of the Northwest Moose Association, held at Tacoma, Wash.

Victoria was well represented and brought home many honors. The degree team of Lodge 1390 won the silver cup in the ritualistic work for the third consecutive year. The vice-president for 1939 is Mr. W. Kettle, past dictator of Lodge 1390. In the doll-dressing contest, of which were 16 entries, the Victoria chapter won the first prize, the doll being dressed by Mrs. J. Beadle. Senior regent Mrs. M. Carter was appointed guide for ensuing year.

The conference opened on Thursday morning, when addresses of welcome were given by Governor D. C. Martin, Mayor Siegle and Holmes Eastwood, safety commissioner of Tacoma. Mrs. Osborne, who graduated from Mooseheart in 1929, gave a very inspiring speech.

With grand regent, deputy grand regent and president Mrs. F. Desrosiers and association officers presiding, the meeting was opened Thursday afternoon, conference leader being Mrs. D. Maston and star recorder of Revelstoke, B.C., taking charge of committee reports. All questions were answered by deputy grand regent Mrs. E. Dean of Vancouver, B.C. Friday evening the conference banquet and dance were held in the Hotel Winthrop. On Saturday the election and installation of officers was carried out as follows: President, Mrs. M. Thornton, Aberdeen; vice-president, Mrs. O'Neill, Pasco; past president, Mrs. E. Desrosiers, Vancouver, B.C.; chaplain, Mrs. E. Reed, Tacoma; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. Ferguson, Spokane; sentinel, Mrs. Sangster, Vancouver, B.C.; argus, Mrs. Dodson, Mt. Vernon; guide, Mrs. M. Carter, Victoria; assistant guide, Mrs. E. McCracken, Pullman; pianist, Mrs. Bradshaw, Seattle.

The field drills and drum corps competitions were held in the afternoon. The exemplification of the new ritual by officers and senior regent, escorts of Seattle Chapter under the directorship of grand regent Mrs. M. Johnson proved impressive. The public speaking contest, "The Value of the Women of the Moose in Our Community," was won by Mrs. Able of Seattle. With the presentation of gifts to officials the conference adjourned, to meet in 1939 in Victoria.

Saanich Pair Mark Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. D. Lehman Honored by Their Many Friends

Fifty years of happy married life were reviewed with old friends and acquaintances by Mr. and Mrs. David Lehman, West Saanich Road, Royal Oak, when they celebrated their golden anniversary yesterday.

On July 25, 1888, Mr. Lehman married Miss Elizabeth Lodge-Hardy at the bride's home in Winterburne, Ontario. After the ceremony the bride and groom left to make their home in Victoria. In 1894, Mr. and Mrs. Lehman left Victoria to reside in Saanich.

"AT HOME" TO FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Lehman, assisted by their daughter, Mrs. J. E. W. Houghton, Victoria, were "at home" to their many friends in St. Michael's and All Angels' parish hall in the afternoon. The hall had been beautifully decorated with a profusion of flowers by Mesdames W. J. Jones, L. H. MacQueen, P. Hodder, B. Hodgson, V. Simpson and Miss Beatrice Jones.

The bride and groom of 50 years ago received their many guests beneath a floral arch which had a horseshoe of "good luck" suspended from it. Presents were received by the guests of honor.

During the afternoon Master Bobby Marconi, accompanied by Miss Janet Robinson, sang "Little Old Lady," which he dedicated to Mrs. Lehman.

Tea was served from a table covered with a Cluny lace cloth centred with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with gold leaves and topped with a gold-colored vase filled with sunset roses. Tall gold tapers in green holders with vases of roses and streamers of green and gold paper were arranged on the table. Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mesdames E. Oades, L. H. MacQueen, R. V. Elliott, W. Allison and Mrs. S. Jones. Assisting in serving were Mrs. Fred Duval, Mrs. B. Hodgson, Mrs. A. Brookman and the Misses Helen and Jean Elliott, Phyllis Hodder, Beatrice Godson, and Diana and Mary Houghton, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lehman.

CHURCH RECEPTION

During the evening a large reception was held in Wilkinson Road United Church. As Mr. and Mrs. Lehman entered the church, the "Lohengrin" Bridal Chorus was played by the church organist, Mr. D. W. Phillips. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. George Jones.

In the name of church and community, the Rev. W. Allan tendered the bride and groom an illuminated address, accompanied by a sum of money, while Mrs. S. Jones presented to Mrs. Lehman a beautiful bouquet of Ophelia roses and golden flowers.

In the church hall, a program opened with a toast to the bride and groom, proposed by Rev. Robert Wilkinson of Vancouver, former pastor of the church. Congratulatory addresses were given by Messrs. J. Maguire, J. W. Pimlott and Rev. F. Conley. Mrs. E. R. Hall of Sidney brought a message of greeting in the name of her mother, Mrs. A. Bolton of Fergus, Ont., who was present at the wedding 50 years ago. Vocal numbers were given by Miss Bertha Phillips, Master Bobby Marconi and Mr. W. J. Jones, accompanied by Miss Jean Robinson and Mr. D. W. Phillips.

Tea was served from a table centred by the wedding cake, flanked by long golden tapers in golden candlesticks. Mesdames W. Allan, J. Hoy, W. Jewell and G. Jones poured tea. The evening was brought to a close with an address by Rev. T. Keyworth, and the singing of the hymn, "Blest Be the Tie That Binds." The church was beautifully decorated with flowers.

Sharing the celebration with their parents were a daughter, Mrs. J. E. W. Houghton of Victoria, and a son, Dr. William Arthur Lehman of Kelowna.

HAPPY VALLEY

A special meeting of the ratepayers of the Happy Valley School District will be held next Saturday evening at 7.30 to receive the report of the committee on transportation.

A silver tea, under the auspices of the Luxton and Happy Valley W.I. will be held Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Hankin, the proceeds, to benefit the hall insurance fund.

TALKS WITH KING

LONDON (CP)—Sir Gerald Campbell, newly appointed British High Commissioner to Canada, was received by the King today at Buckingham Palace. Sir Gerald will assume his new position in the fall, succeeding Sir Francis Flood, who will leave to take an important post with the government of Bengal.

More recently she has been holidaying on the Riviera. Miss Hall is spending a couple of days with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hall, in Vancouver en route home.

Weddings

ROACH-INGRAM

A quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at the home of Rev. T. H. McAllister, Qu'Appelle Street, when Irene, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ingram of Grant Street, became the bride of John Thomas Roach, second son of Mrs. A. Osborne and the late Mr. John Roach, Grange Road.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Norman Ingram, was attired in a dress of pale blue floral silk with white accessories. Miss Mildred Ingram, her sister, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a becoming dress of dark floral triple sheer. Both wore corsage bouquets of roses, gladioli and swansonia. Mr. Cliff Roach assisted as best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Osborne, Grange Road. The reception room was beautifully decorated with flowers. A two-tier wedding cake centred the table, which was laid with a handsome Madeira cloth, and decorated with tall white tapers and rosebuds in silver vases. The honeymoon will be spent in the Cowichan Lake district, and on their return, the couple will reside in Victoria.

Carnegie Wedding To Fulfil Old Prophecy

Granddaughter of Scottish Steel King to Wed Tomorrow; Reception at Skibo Castle, Scotland

DORNOCH, Scotland — Nineteen years ago an old man gazed up at the walls of Skibo Castle and murmured: "Steel built yon house. But 'tis love that will keep it when I'm called away."

The speaker was Andrew Carnegie—poor Scotch boy who became steel king of America. And now his prophecy is soon to come true.

Across the threshold of Skibo tomorrow, James Frederick Thomson, 40, an Edinburgh lawyer, will carry his bride, Louise Carnegie Miller, granddaughter of the man who made it.

And although the nuptials will be simple—only relatives and a few favored townfolk have been invited—a Yankee flavor will pervade the ceremony. For Louise, just turned 19, has imported Rev. Dr. William P. Merrill, rector of the fashionable Brick Presbyterian Church on Fifth Ave., and spiritual adviser of the Miller and Carnegie families for years, to conduct the service at Dornoch Cathedral.

NEW YORK TROUSSEAU

A Fifth Avenue wedding frock will clothe Louise for her marriage. Most of her trousseau was purchased in New York, although some of her lingerie was ordered in Paris.

It was indicated here that the Highlanders will make a great festival of the occasion. Because they declare that the marriage of Louise to a Scotsman is fulfilling the prophecy made by the late steel master before the bride-to-be was born, the old members of the estate, which has been reopened for the occasion, plan to lay a wreath on the little cairn of rough stones raised in Andrew's memory by the hands of his Scotch employees.

Estate workers are busy cutting weeds and brush for one of the biggest bonfires that ever blazed in Britain. It will be lighted on the night of the wedding as part of the festivities.

SHY HEIRESS

Louise has often been called America's shyest heiress. She dislikes publicity to such an extent that she seldom appears in public. She insisted on a simple wedding.

She and her fiancé fell in love two years ago when Thomson visited Dornoch for a house party. It was reported that they wanted to marry immediately, but were persuaded to wait until Louise was 18. The stories that the two wanted to elope shortly after they met were denied recently by the bride-to-be's father, Roswell Miller. However, soon after Louise passed her 18th birthday the wedding date was set.

GIFTS FOUR IN

Miller, who married Margaret Carnegie, daughter of the multimillionaire steel king while he was taking a course in civil engineering at Princeton, is now in business in New York as a real estate operator.

With Mrs. Miller and members of their family he has joined Mrs. Carnegie, Uncle Andy's widow, at Skibo Castle.

Magnificent wedding presents have been showered upon the bridal couple. Mrs. Louise Carnegie has given her grand daughter a superb string of pearls and a house on the grounds of Skibo Castle. Packing cases filled with gifts sent by relatives and friends in the United States, England and Scotland have been arriving at Skibo for the past several weeks.

The wedding ceremony itself will be celebrated according to Scottish law.

Exciting even more local attention than the actual wedding is the fact that Mrs. Carnegie is emerging from her seclusion and throwing open Skibo Castle for the celebrations attending the nuptials.

It was 40 years after Andrew Carnegie emigrated to America that he came home to buy the castle which overlooks beautiful Dornoch Firth.

"Pickaback" Is Newest Dance

NEW YORK (AP)—A new rival for the "shag," the "pickaback dance," is here. It was demonstrated by two girls before 400 dance instructors at a convention of the Dancing Teachers' Business Association. The dance included a series of tap steps and acrobatic movements and ended with one girl resting on the back of the other—emulating the new trans-Atlantic pickaback plane, the Mercury.

Lady Warwick Passes In England

Famous Edwardian Hostess Dies; Friend of Royalty

LONDON (AP)—Frances, Countess of Warwick, famous hostess of Edwardian days, who startled society by entertaining both royalty and socialists, died today at her home at Easton Lodge, Dunmow, Essex. She was 76 years old.

She was the grandmother of the present holder of the Warwick title, the seventh earl, who recently had a Hollywood film contract.

For many years Easton Lodge was the week-end meeting place for England's socialist and Laborite leaders. Earlier, in the eighties, it was often visited by the Prince of Wales, who later became Edward VII.

THE LATE COUNTESS OF WARWICK

The Countess wrote a number of books. One of the most recent was "The Prime Minister's Pyjamas," which appeared in 1933.

The Countess disregarded the wishes of Queen Victoria and the Earl of Beaconsfield, the Prime Minister, and a chance to become a member of the royal family, in order to marry a man of her own choice.

The Queen and the Prime Minister wanted her to marry Prince Leopold, the Queen's youngest son. But she had already fallen in love with the Prince's equerry, then Lord Brooke, who later became the fifth Earl of Warwick. He died in 1924.

In a remarkably frank book of memoirs published in 1929 she told of her close friendship with King Edward VII. She said an unidentified cabinet minister asked her to use her influence for an alliance between Great Britain and Germany, but she refused because King Edward "joathes the German Emperor"—Kaiser Wilhelm II.

The Esquimaux Women's Institute will hold their weekly card party on Thursday evening at 8.15 in the parish hall.

Keeps Secret So Stays In Prison

Woman Refuses to Tell Court of $30,000 Estate

CHICAGO (AP)—Who said a woman can't keep a secret? Mrs. Daisy Tegtmeyer today was rounding out five years in the Cook County Jail, all because "she won't tell."

And what this 53-year-old widow won't tell to the satisfaction of the court is what disposition was made of part of a $30,000 estate.

In 1924 she became trustee of the estate of her father-in-law. Minor heirs of the older Tegtmeyer filed a bill alleging they had $30,000 due. Mrs. Tegtmeyer refused to give an accounting. After much litigation she was told July 27, 1933, to give an accounting or go to jail.

Numerous attempts have been made in various courts to get her out on writs of habeas corpus. One judge commented: "She is her own lockup keeper."

She was free under a bond for a few months last year while the Illinois Appellate Court reviewed her case. The court ordered her returned to jail.

During one of her appearances in court, Mrs. Tegtmeyer said the money had been dissipated through bad investments, but she was tightlipped on details.

In December, 1936, she said she had $27,000 hidden in the lining of an old coat in the apartment she has maintained all the while she has been in jail. When the coat could not be found she said it probably had been stolen by burglars.

Mrs. Tegtmeyer's present attorney—the 16th—is preparing to represent the woman in her 25th legal attempt to "get out and go home."

ARCTIC SHIP WEDDING SCENE

CAPE DORSET, N.W.T. (CP)—The Arctic patrol vessel Nascopie steamed away from this Baffin Island outpost today, leaving behind an exploratory expedition, a year's supplies, and a bride and groom joined in marriage by an engine-room-made wedding ring.

The Nascopie has seen other weddings in her years of battering Arctic floes, but never such a one as took place on her deck yesterday, combining the prominent names of civilization with the rough-and-ready resourcefulness of the outposts.

Rt. Rev. Archibald Fleming, Anglican Bishop of the Arctic, and better known throughout Canada as "Archibald the Arctic," officiated at the marriage of Thomas Henry Manning, distinguished British explorer and scientist, and Ella Wallace Jackson of Halifax, John Buchan, son of the Governor-General of Canada, acted as best man in the simple ceremony.

But almost as important to the ceremony as Rev. Mr. Fleming himself, was Chief Engineer Thomas of the Nascopie. It was a ring fashioned by Thomas from an engine-room fitting that was used as the wedding ring of Mr. and Mrs. Manning.

Manning is leader of the British-Canadian Arctic exploration expedition which will spend the next two years engaged in scientific investigation on Baffin Island.

After the ceremony had been performed, the Nascopie discharged her supplies and continued on her way to Churchill, Man. She was en route from Montreal on her regular summer patrol of Hudson's Bay Company outposts near the Arctic.

John Buchan, now an employee of the Hudson's Bay Company, will spend the winter at one of the outposts with one companion.

COAST SHIPBUILDING SAN PEDRO (AP)—Pacific coast shipbuilders will get contracts for "a material portion" of the 500 cargo and passenger vessels to be constructed by the United States Maritime Commission, John Slacks, commission financial assistant, said here yesterday.

"The North Atlantic yards will be overtaxed with the new American navy expansion program," he said, "plus the express passenger vessels that the commission is going to build." Consequently we must have room for building smaller freighters of simpler design on the west coast.

Married women of middle age, it has been estimated, have a better chance of a long life than either widows or spinsters.

Clubwomen's News

Princess Margaret Rose Lodge, Juvenile D.O.E., will meet in the Sons of England Hall tomorrow. All members are asked to attend as final arrangements for a picnic will be discussed.

Victoria Purple Star Lodge No. 104, L.O.B.A., will hold a silver tea at the home of Mrs. E. Hume, 1250 Camrose Street, on Thursday afternoon at 2. Members intending to go are advised to take the Lake Hill bus, leaving the Coach Lines depot at 2.

Royal Oak

A large crowd attended the old-time dance in the Community Hall Saturday evening. Stewart's orchestra was in attendance and prizes were won by Miss Burnett, Mrs. B. Hornsby, W. Glover and J. Smith.

Members and friends of the Royal Oak W.I. will hold their annual outing at Woodside Farm, Sooke, on Thursday. Buses will leave the Community Hall at 9.45.

Modern Etiquette

By ROBERTA LEE

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a woman sign her name "Jane" or "Aunt Jane" when she is writing a letter to her nephew or niece?

2. How should one introduce his father and stepmother?

3. If "Mr." is written after a man's name is "Mr." dropped?

4. Is it correct to speak of a "widow lady"?

5. Should one call a sister-in-law or brother-in-law by their first names if they are practically strangers?

What would you do if—Someone asks you a personal question which you do not want to answer—

(a) Say, "I think that's a personal matter?"

(b) Tell him whatever you like—true or not?

(c) Say, "I'm sorry, but I'd rather not answer?"

ANSWERS

1. If she is much older, "Aunt Jane."

2. "This is my stepmother and my father." Or, if she has been a beloved stepmother since early childhood, "This is my mother and father."

3. No. He is "Mr. David Jones Jr."

4. No. A widow.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(c), unless you are skillful in changing the subject.

Paralysis Cases In South England

HALSTEAD, Essex, Eng. (CP)—A sudden outbreak of infantile paralysis today spread consternation throughout this quiet country community.

Of 11 children stricken, a 15-year-old boy died last night, resulting in the placing of a virtual quarantine over the area and organized efforts of medical authorities to trace the "carrier" who is believed to have spread the disease unwittingly.

Halstead schools have been closed until September 5 and other precautions are being taken.

At Felstead school, about 15 miles from Halstead, four boys are under observation—in the school-sanatorium. As a precaution 80 other pupils are quarantined there until August 5, while the remaining pupils have been allowed to go home on condition they be kept under strictest supervision.

Dr. J. S. Ranson, Halstead medical officer, reported no new cases today. He said the boy who died was John La Niece.

The boy's condition became so serious last Saturday that a call was broadcast for an iron lung and one was rushed here from South End. The child improved at first, then suffered a relapse.

Poison Attempt Against Governor

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Kentucky's highway patrol proceeded today with an investigation into the asserted "poisoning" of Governor A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Major Joe Burman, chief of the state bureau of identification, said it was "not the first time such a thing has happened during the campaign." Chandler is waging for the Democratic senatorial nomination against Senator Alben Barkley, U.S. Senate majority leader.

Governor Chandler, ill since Friday when he was stricken in a Louisville hotel, was a victim of water "doctored with poison," Dr. J. W. Bryan, his Louisville physician, said in a statement.

Dr. Bryan said he did not know what kind of poison it was, but added "if consumed in sufficient quantities it would have caused death."

Henry P. Biggar Dies in England

WORPLESDON, Surrey, Eng. (CP)—Henry Percival Biggar, author and chief archivist for Canada in Europe, who in 1926 discovered a "bust of Gen. Wolfe," was found dead today outside the door of his home here.

It is believed he collapsed on returning from a stroll last night. The body was found by the milkman.

PRINCE FRANZ DIES

VADUZ, Liechtenstein (AP)—Prince Franz I of Liechtenstein, died yesterday at Castle Feldberg, Czechoslovakia. He was 85. He succeeded his brother, Johann, in 1929 as ruler of the 65-mile square principality, wedged between Switzerland and former Austria.

STICK TO YOUR ROMAN MEAL THIS SUMMER

• That's good hot-weather advice... because my mineral-rich cereals, Roman Meal, Bekus Puddy and Lishus, and iron-rich Kofy-Sub, supply the vitalizing elements which help you withstand any degree of heat and build up your mineral reserve against the short, dark winter days ahead. Combine one of these cereals (all are equally mineral-rich) with lots of fresh fruit, vegetables, nuts and milk; select from these, 80% of the bulk of your food intake, and you will enjoy the hottest weather in comfort. Here are some delicious summertime suggestions I urge you to try:

Never Made Roman Meal Muffins?

Well, here's a real treat for you. Mixed and made in no time, Roman Meal Muffins are just scrumptious and picnic, or with salads or fresh fruit dessert, and so very, very healthful, even hot from the oven. A glass of milk and one or two Roman Meal Muffins make an ideal hot weather snack or lunch.

A "Hot" Meal That Does Not Overheat!

For a wholesome "hot meal" which is easily digested and not overbearing to the body, follow my special Pancake recipe. Serve with honey or maple syrup, or smothered with berries if digestion is good, and the heartiest appetite will be satisfied without being satiated, and the hot days can be disregarded.

These recipes and other delightful suggestions that will help you to vary and vitalize your summer meals, are printed on all Roman Meal, Bekus Puddy and Lishus packages.

Finally, I urge you to try Kofy-Sub. Richer in iron than any food substance known to me and needed by the blood; cooling and refreshing, you can drink it by the gallon and get good from every drop. Especially delightful if sweetened with honey before icing.

For free booklet "How to Keep Well," address Robert G. Jackson, M.D., 871 Vine Ave., Toronto.

NOTE In some parts of Canada Roman Meal will henceforth be known as Dr. Jackson Meal—this is a change in name only; the product itself remains unchanged.

Orchestra Holds Annual Meeting

Young Musicians Enthusiastic as They Plan Future Activities

The young members of the Victoria Philharmonic Orchestra Society held their first annual meeting at the home of Alfred Prescott, the conductor, last night. Gilbert Margison was elected president of the society; Douglas Kent, vice-president; Betty Mulliner, secretary, and Dennis Kent, treasurer.

It was decided that a program committee of three members be elected, Ray Fellows, Bert Botten and Julia Kent-Jones being elected in this capacity.

Steve Davey was chosen librarian, to be assisted by a member from each section to be in charge of all the music. A telephone committee and a social committee will be elected at the next meeting, the members likewise to consist of representatives from each section of the orchestra.

A. B. CALDER OF C.P.R. DIES

VANCOUVER—A well-known and colorful figure in Canada's railway life passed away here yesterday with the sudden death of Arthur B. Calder, who served the Canadian Pacific Railway's passenger department for nearly half a century.

Collapsing on the street car near his West End home from a heart attack he died half an hour later.

Retired for the past six years from his former post as the Canadian Pacific's passenger traffic commissioner with a roving commission, he had been living quietly in Vancouver with Mrs. Calder whom he married in Tacoma more than 45 years ago.

Son of another A. B. Calder, who until his death two years ago at the age of 96, operated an independent travel agency in Winnipeg, Arthur B. Calder was born in the Manitoba capital 71 years ago.

As a boy he followed construction forces of the Canadian Pacific through the Rockies and Selkirk, and later, in 1890, joined the passenger department which he served until his retirement. As agent at Seattle and Tacoma in the 90's he did much "missionary" work for the new line across the Dominion and later as a special traffic representative he conducted many famous travelers and groups of travelers from abroad through the Dominion. He held positions at Winnipeg and Montreal during his long career.

One of his last assignments for the Canadian Pacific was his trip to Honolulu in 1931 when he addressed the Pacific Relations Conference on the subject he knew so well, "Trade Follows Travel."

Vancouver Shipping

VANCOUVER (CP)—Captain P. R. Flynn, skipper of the steamship Anglo-Saxon, which arrived light from England to load full at British Columbia ports for Australia, reported whales and smoke the only unusual sights on his inward voyage.

The whales were "big fellows, spouting," and he said that smoke off Cape Flattery cut visibility to a point where the fore-castle head could not be seen from the bridge.

The Canadian Air Force marine station for refueling and supplying seaplanes, formerly stationed at Queen Charlotte Islands, and recently at Jericho Air Station near here, was in drydock yesterday for overhaul.

MONTREAL (CP)—Decrease of $160,000 was shown today in Canadian Pacific Railway earnings of $2,519,000 for week ended July 21, compared with $2,688,000 in the corresponding 1937 period.

WILL LAUNCH MINESWEEPERS

H.M.C.S. Nootka to Take Water in Esquimalt Harbor Third Week in August

OTTAWA (CP)—Launching of the second of Canada's four new minesweepers will take place at North Vancouver August 9, when H.M.C.S. Comox will leave the ways, it was learned at defence headquarters here yesterday. Three days later, H.M.C.S. Gaspe will be launched at Quebec. The fourth minesweeper, H.M.C.S. Nootka, is scheduled to be launched in the third week of August, at Esquimalt.

Toward the end of next month the new Canadian destroyers, Ottawa and Restigouche, which will serve at the Esquimalt station on the Pacific Coast, will leave Devonport, England, for Canada. The warships will go direct to their station, via the Panama Canal. The new vessels will bring Canada's naval strength up to six destroyers, Skeena, Fraser, St. Laurent, Saguenay, Ottawa and Restigouche, and four minesweepers, Comox, Nootka, Gaspe and Fundy. The last-named ship was launched at Collingwood some weeks ago.

Strength on the Pacific will be four destroyers and two minesweepers, with the remainder doing duty on the Atlantic.

Around the Docks

Passengers here from the Orient on the Empress of Russia yesterday, after a foggy crossing of the North Pacific, included: Mrs. J. MacLennan and her son, of Manila; Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Hume of Sarawak, Miss Mary Chen of Singapore, R. T. McDonald, Miss A. Viola Smith, Lieut. Comdr. R. McP. Jones, P. Dunbar, R. D. Smith, J. Y. Honeycutt, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Pott and four children, all of Shanghai; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Evans, London, Ontario; Mrs. R. McClelland and son of Kobe, Mrs. J. C. Taylor and two sons of Tientsin, A. W. L. Robertson of London, T. L. Overing of Montreal, Mrs. S. der Boett and two children of Tokio; Alfred Russell of Tokio and Rev. Mother Marie Hele de la Croix, Provincial Superior of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd of Montreal.

There were 325 passengers aboard the Empress—37 in the first class, 102 in the tourist and 186 in the third class.

Mrs. Jessie Serle and Miss Serle of England came ashore here from Ms. Pacific President, Capt. G. W. A. Newman, last night and left for Prospect Lake to visit relatives. All other passengers proceeded to Vancouver with the ship.

Royal Mail refrigerator ship Narenta followed the Pacific President in from England and was at the Rithet piers all morning discharging a large parcel of general freight.

The lighthouse tender Estevan was floated off the Yarrow slipway at Esquimalt yesterday and overhaul is expected to be completed tomorrow.

Sports Mirror

LOCAL OARSMEN are smiling at the sad, sad story that came out of Vancouver over the week-end, following completion of the North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen's regatta.

Victoria won only three events in the meet. But those, incidentally, included the featured eight and senior four races.

"We just ran into tough luck," Dan Moses, coach and newly-elected president of the N.P.A.A.O., explains.

In the senior singles, Max Winkler bowed to the runner-up in the junior singles the preceding day. Waves from a passing launch sent him way off his course, slowed him down and prevented him from catching up the distance gained by his Vancouver opponent.

In the junior event, Jack MacDonald, who doesn't pretend to be in the same class as Winkler, beat the Vancouver boy. So the result of the senior contest doesn't mean a thing in the rating.

In the senior doubles, a seat came loose in the Victoria boat. The boys stepped, fixed it and caught up with the Vancouver pair. But they couldn't shake the hard luck that dogged them. A piece of bark stuck in their fin and slowed the boat down to a drift. Those were just a couple of the breaks they got.

"If it were a genuine case of taking a beating, we could take it. But we don't like the way Vancouver crews about their fluke victories," Dan remarks.

The action of the N.P.A.A.O. officials in turning down San Francisco's invitation to hold the annual regatta in the confines of the Golden Gate next year was explained by Moses. The gala is essentially a northwest event, and the authorities thought its transfer to the south would cause interest in rowing to lag in this part of the country.

The boys are looking forward to coast championships down there next year. As holders of the Pacific Coast four-oared title, they will journey to San Francisco to meet the pick of California as well as northern opposition in that category.

Although the J.B.A.A. has less to show for its N.P.A.A.O. participation this year than it has had in recent seasons, the coach is not disappointed. With few exceptions the crews had little practice against a steady training schedule observed by Vancouver since January. The Victoria boys still have three regattas coming up, and expect to take down the mainlanders in one after another. There is a race or two scheduled in Seattle against the University of Washington in the fall, and the boys will work out in competition for the last time this year in their annual season-closing meet here.

In the meantime, Dan Moses is satisfied with his boys. "If we hadn't gone over to Vancouver the N.P.A.A.O. would have lapsed. As it was the boys did exceptionally well, apart from their tough breaks, despite the fact we have been spending more time building than training this year," he said.

Ralph Alcock, who for several seasons did some excellent work teaching youngsters to swim at the Gorge and who is now acting as lifeguard at Thetis Lake, makes his annual plea to picnickers to avoid cramps.

"Far too many of them are swimming too soon after eating. That's inviting stomach cramps, and they are just about the worst for a swimmer can encounter," Ralph states.

He asks the less thoughtful to show a little more restraint before they plunge into the lake after lunch or dinner.

Maybe it's one of those faults in the English language—Helen Willis Moody has scratched from an eastern tennis tournament because she strained her back "packing her trunk." Does the Queen of the Court carry her own luggage or did she twist a vertebrae trying to push an extra frock into her traveling wardrobe?

Ancient Babylon was proud of having a "road glistening with asphalt."

Vancouver Golfer Plays Out of Bounds and Team-Disqualified

LONDON, Ont. (CP)—A history-making disqualification was written today on the records of the Royal Canadian Golf Association, a ruling that ousted the British Columbia team from the Willingdon Cup championship and caused a playoff tie between Quebec and Ontario for the team championship of Canada.

The Pacific Coast boys were apparently safely enthroned yesterday as the team champions when Don Gowan of Vancouver decided he may have overstepped the rules and consulted the captain of the British Columbia team, Kenny Black.

British Columbia had been posted as winner with an aggregate medal score of 603, four strokes better than Quebec, defending champions, and a smart Ontario squad could show.

Upon hearing Gowan's recital of the facts Black hurried to communicate with R.C.G.A. officials and an executive session resulted. Gowan appeared voluntarily before the meeting and told his story.

PLAYED OUT OF BOUNDS

At the eighth hole of the afternoon round, he said, he had played a ball that might be considered out of bounds. At the ninth he had done the same thing. The executive thanked Gowan for his sportsmanship, took note of the circumstances and promptly ordered a disqualification with the ruling that Quebec and Ontario must play a five-hole test today to decide the winner.

Gowan's tee shot off the ninth carried to the left and beyond a chain of posts, joined by wire cable, that are marked out of bounds. He played his lie. On the ninth, where the drive off the tee parallels a roadway and holds a threat of an out of bounds shot to the right, Gowan kept out of trouble with his drive, but hooked his second to the left beyond the posts. He again played his lie.

The R.C.G.A. was quick to point out that Gowan was under the impression the boundary stakes dividing the fairways from the

Longshoremen To Battle Camerons

Stevedores Beat Burns 9 to 6 to Enter Softball Finals

It will be Victoria Longshoremen and Cameron Lumber who will contest in the best-of-five-game series for the A-section softball championship.

The stevedores marched into the finals yesterday evening when they slugged out their second straight victory over Manager Frank Strandle's Burns Shamrocks with a 9 to 6 decision before another crowd of about 400 at the Athletic Park. They won the first game of the best-of-three elimination series Friday night last, 12 to 2.

The exhibition lacked the class usually seen in A section play-offs. Both twirlers, Ralph Bonner for the longshoremen, and Lloyd Jones for Burns, turned in fine pitching performances, but the support accorded them by their teammates was pretty sluggish at times. This was especially noticeable on the Burns line-up in the latter innings, when a number of costly boots were made. There were a dozen errors, all told.

ROCKET AHEAD

The battle was a comparatively even one for five innings. But Jim Lackie's freight jugglers got down to some serious hitting and base-running in the following two innings, which rocketed them far out of the reach of the Shamrocks, who helped them along with a couple of bobbles. The losers tried hard to bag the three runs needed for a tie game in their last two batting sessions, but they were tripped up both times.

Each team pushed across a brace of runs in their opening sessions at bat. In the following frame, longshoremen bagged the only run, but Burns came back with a trio of markers in the fourth, following a scoreless third inning, to take a two-run lead.

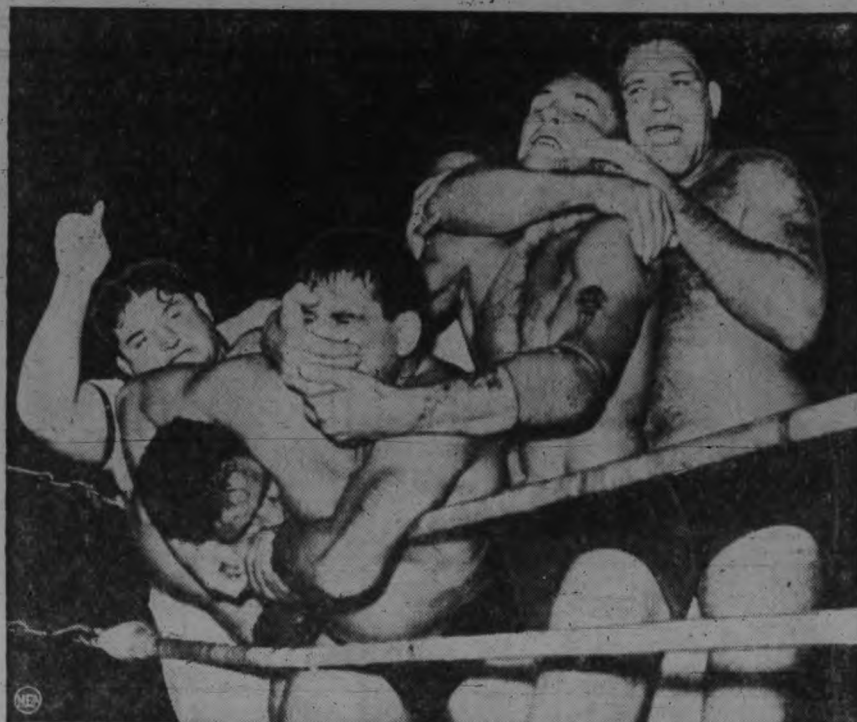

For the remainder of the game it was a lopsided scrap. The eventual winners climbed into the lead again in the sixth with a three-run attack and added three more tallies in the seventh, to clinch the match. Shamrocks got one more run in the eighth. Bonner was nicked for six hits, while Jones yielded one more.

Lloyd Knapp's home run in the seventh provided the longshoremen with a pair of valuable runs.

Score by innings:
Burns 200300010-6
Longshoremen 210003300-9
Batteries—Jones and Caddell; Bonner and Dunnett.

Talk About Double-headers!

Protesters in the southwest have introduced a new wrinkle to the mat game, and the not-so-affectionate scene above shows the innovation being unfolded before Houston fans. The wrestlers are sent into the ring in teams, which makes the referee's job the toughest of the evening. Sol Slagle, the referee in this case, is trying to untangle, from bottom to top, Steve Malakoff, Lou Plummer, Pete Malakoff and Wee Willie Davis.

KAY STAPLES ELIMINATED

VANCOUVER—In one of the most gruelling games ever witnessed on a tennis court here, Larry Hall of Bakersfield, Calif., defeated Ross Sidaway, Vancouver, 6-2, 13-15, 12-10, in their opening match of the western Canadian tennis championship yesterday.

Kay Staples, Duncan, put up a gallant fight against the junior girls' titleholder of Washington state, Daphne Bucknell, but the lone entrant from Vancouver Island lost, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

Set Navy Week Sports Events

Cricket Game Tomorrow to Open Varied Program on Celebration Schedule

Victoria's athletic circles will swing into special Navy Week activity tomorrow as a cricket team captained by Hubert Lethaby opens the 10-day program with an all-day match against an eleven from H.M.S. York at Macdonald Park.

On Saturday the celebration activities will take on broader lines with open competitions in the Highland Games at the same grounds, starting at 9:30 in the morning. Track events will be featured in the afternoon.

On Monday of next week bowlers will hold the spotlight with the Greater Victoria District Lawn Bowling Association's 11th annual tournament starting at Beacon Hill.

Further major events will be staged a week from today when the Naval Veterans sponsor a special series of contests. Included in the program are boat races at Esquimalt Harbor in the morning at 10:30, and a soccer match between H.M.S. York and the Canadian Navy at the Athletic Park at 5:30.

FLEET BOXING

The following evening, Wednesday, a box lacrosse game and the inaugural Pacific Fleet boxing championships will draw the sport-minded to the Athletic Park for another well-rounded program.

The Navy sports will highlight activity on Thursday, August 4. The events will be run at Macdonald Park, starting at 1:30 and will precede baseball at the Athletic Park.

On Friday, August 5, another soccer game has been arranged and on the following Saturday spectators will have a choice of cricket, box lacrosse or softball on their sports menu.

Lethaby's team for tomorrow's cricket match, scheduled to start at 11 and continue to 4:15 with the luncheon interval from 1 to 2, follows: H. Lethaby, C. Jones, G. H. Kitch, R. Wenman, J. S. Smith, F. Jordan, A. Gillespie, Bishop Remington, R. H. Moffatt, G. C. Grant and V. Moore. A. Ferguson will be umpire and W. I. Land scorer.

FARMERS BEAT SALMONBELLIES

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—The race for the leadership of the Inter-city Box Lacrosse League, already tied up three ways, may become knotted even tighter soon if the Richmond Farmers keep their machine rolling.

Farmers exploded goals from nowhere last night to hand New Westminster Salmonbellies their second straight defeat, 23 to 10. The result left the fishermen still tied with New Westminster Adanacs and Vancouver Burrards for the league leadership, and pushed Farmers to within four points of getting in the tie-up themselves.

The game was knotted 12 to 12 at the half.

Harmachis Wins Stewards' Prize

GOODWOOD, Eng. (CP)—Mrs. G. Farrand's Harmachis,

five-year-old by Roidore out of Maqueda, today won the Stewards' Cup, defeating H. G. Blagrove's Old Reliance by a head. Miss Rachel Parsons' Davy Doltie was third in the field of 25, two lengths behind Old Reliance. Harmachis started at 100 to 7, Old Reliance at 9 to 1 and Davy Doltie at 100 to 9.

The race, run over six furlongs, was worth £1,325 ($6,625).

HELENS READY FOR NET DUELS

Moody and Jacobs to Renew Rivalry on U.S. Courts Shortly

NEW YORK (AP)—It looks as though 1938 will be a banner year for the Moody-Jacobs tennis rivalry, a rivalry which both participants are anxious to have you believe exists only on the tennis courts.

It has been going on since the days when Helen Jacobs, now 30, was a junior; includes 20-odd meetings, counting minor tournaments in their native California; had its last renewal in this year's Wimbledon final, a 6-4, 6-0 "walkover" for 33-year-old Helen Willis Moody after Miss Jacobs turned her ankle in the second set, and is likely to have two more renewals before the season ends.

The first should be in the Essex County Invitation at Manchester, Mass., which starts August 15, and the second in the national singles at Forest Hills, September 8 to 17.

On their return from Europe, Miss Jacobs 10 days ago and Mrs. Moody yesterday, each announced that Manchester would be her first tournament, and each said she would play at Forest Hills. Miss Jacobs in quest of her fifth title, Mrs. Moody her eighth.

Granted that "Jake" recovers from her ankle injury and "Poker Face" from a slight back strain, their Wimbledon showings indicate there would be little to stop them from reaching both finals.

At Manchester they will face the best of the home-bred talent, which leads off with top-ranked Alice Marble, who lost to Miss Jacobs in the Wimbledon semi-finals.

Chuck Congdon Nine Under Par

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Charles Congdon, Tacoma professional, held the Tacoma open title today after carding a 61-70—131 medal play score for 36 holes, to lead 254 competitors in the first annual tournament here. His first round was nine under par.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., scored 67-66—133, seven under par, for runners-up prize money.

Harry Givan, Seattle amateur, was third, with 68-66—134. He is a former U.S. Walker Cup team member, and led the amateurs in low gross.

Sees Hope For Canada In Zone Tennis Round

ZULU GIANTS TO SHOW HERE

Colored Baseball Comedians Will Meet Local All-stars Tomorrow Night

A combination of smart ballers and high class comedians, the African Zulu Giants, touring baseball squad, will make their Victoria debut tomorrow evening at Athletic Park at 6:15, when they take on the Victoria All-Stars in the first of a two-game series.

The colored boys are rated as one of the diamond's best attractions now on the road, and should provide a pair of entertaining evenings for Victoria followers. The local appearances of the Zulu Giants will end their Canadian tour. Since leaving Detroit, their headquarters, the tourists have been playing before record crowds.

The second game of the series will be played Thursday night at 6:15.

MURRAY TO PITCH

Tommy Restell, manager of the All-Stars, announced last night that Lonnie Murray, ace right-hander, will operate on the hillcock for the local side in the first game. Restell asks the following players to be at the park tomorrow night at 5:45: Barney Barnswell, Henry Harris, Raymond Casey, Al Condon, Jimmie Morrison, Axel Kinnear, Wally Scott, Jack Blake, Raymond George, Massa Kuwabara, Charlie Restell, Ted Maltland, Lonnie Murray, Sonny Walker, Ray Maltland, Lloyd Jones and Steve Dunc.

JUNIOR GAMES

As a preliminary to the main attraction tomorrow night, two teams composed of players from the Junior and Juvenile Baseball Association, the Blues and Greys, will meet in an exhibition game. Fourteen players have been selected for each squad, and they will all be sporting new uniforms. Teams follow—Blues—Pitchers: Whittingham, Flaherty, Davey; catchers, McDonald, Milliken; infield, Lea, Clark, McCaghy, Donagh, Thomas; outfielders, Garrett, Robinson, Garson, Satterfield. Greys—Pitchers, Barnes, Jewell, Curry; catchers, Atkinson, Clark; infielders, Dewsbury, Masters, Wright, Watson, Horne; outfielders, Milburn, Ware, Satterfield, Rowe.

Pitzer and Nex baseballers are asked to turn out for a practice this evening at 6:15 at Beacon Hill Park, end of No. 3 street car line.

Victoria Club baseballers drew a game and lost a game Sunday in a two-game exhibition series with Nanaimo in the upisland city. Nanaimo came through with a close 4 to 3 decision in the

May Revive Old Baseball League

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP)—Baseball leaders of five states sought today to revive a class C professional baseball league that produced such major talent as "Lefty" Gomez, Wally Berger, Ernie Lombardi and Harry Danning.

Representatives of 11 western towns met to attempt formation of an eight-team league that would start play in 1939. Last professional league in the region was the Utah-Idaho circuit that started more than a score of players on the road to the major leagues.

Like the crops, the roads and the amusement park business, the pennant hopes of the Cleveland Indians suffered severe damage from last week's prolonged rainy spell in the east. In fact, there's a strong belief in some quarters the Tribe was rained right out of the American League pennant.

The Indians are only a game behind the league-leading New York Yankees as they open at home today after remaining over in Boston an extra day to divide a final doubleheader with the Red Sox. They may even regain the lead at home. But when they go east again there's bound to be trouble. Cleveland was doing right well when the deluge started. They got an even break in 10 games in the east, better than any other western team except Chicago could do.

But the three games at New York they figured would put them on top again were rained out.

Expect Even-money Rating When Challenger Meets Steele in Seattle

SEATTLE (AP)—The overall kid from Seattle's Georgetown district gets his chance tonight at the world's middleweight boxing crown when Al "Hostile" Hostak clashes with Freddie Steele, the champion from Tacoma.

It's scheduled for 15 rounds, but may be decided sooner because of the hefty punches packed by the two principals. Challenger Hostak has scored 15 consecutive knockouts and hopes Steele will be No. 16. Steele has scored 31 knockouts in his career.

The fighters were scheduled to weigh in around 12 today, with Steel expected to scale around 150 pounds and Hostak a pound lighter.

When the fight was announced, Steel was a 10 to 7 favorite in the wagering, but the odds have slumped to 10 to 9 and indications are it will be an even-money argument by ringtime.

Jack Dempsey, former heavy-weight champion, will referee the match, which Nate Druzman estimated would draw between 35,000 and 40,000 persons and a gate of from $80,000 to $100,000. Here's how they measure up:

Davis Cup Play Chances Rest on Doubles and Second Singles Games

MONTREAL (CP)—Canada's nominees for the Davis Cup matches against Japan here this week will be kept secret until the last minute, E. Henri Laframboise, Dominion team captain, said today.

Choices for the singles matches, Laframboise declared, will be disclosed only at noon tomorrow, just before the two Japanese and two Canadian names are placed in hats and drawn against each other for the Thursday and Saturday encounters. The doubles team will be revealed Tuesday.

With Canada's return to Davis Cup competition only two days away, the nonplaying skipper of the Dominion forces said he had not yet made his selections. "I've got to watch the Japanese practice more before deciding," he said.

The veteran tennis expert expressed himself as "very confident" of Canada's chances after seeing the invaders work out yesterday. While most observers give Canada a chance only of making a good showing against the Japanese, without victory, Laframboise asserted he was "very hopeful" of actually taking the round.

YAMAGISHI STRONG

He's pinning the Dominion's hopes on the second singles and the doubles. Jiro Yamagishi, expected to be the No. 1 Japanese choice, he described as "very strong," as he announced he would concentrate Canadian efforts against the other players. "I'm hopeful we can take the doubles," he declared. While he would give no hint of his doubles nominations, it was believed here the team would be made up of Ross Wilson of Toronto and Montreal's Laird Watt, who have been showing strong form in the work-outs.

The Japanese were expected to disclose their singles selections some time today. Possibility was held that Yamagishi and Fumiteru Nakano might handle both singles and doubles assignments.

Hudson Bay And Five C's Meet

The Hudson's Bay Cricket Club will meet the Five C's eleven tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 on the Beacon Hill grounds. The game will be one in the series for the Berger Cup. Hudson Bay has won one game and the Five C's will be out for their first win.

Albions Defeat Seattle Eleven

Albions took the measure of Seattle in a Victoria and District Cricket Association League match in Seattle on Sunday, dismissing the U.S. eleven for 98 and then putting on 126.

E. D. Freeman's fine 79, scored before he retired injured, was a feature of the match.

Syracuse Will Meet Druggists

Syracuse and Owl Drug, junior box lacrosse squads, will meet this evening at 6:15 in the Beacon Hill Park enclosure, while tomorrow night, Indians and the Navy, senior teams, will battle in the Victoria West Park arena. This game is listed for 6:15, also.

The Life of John Muir

2—A FARM BOY'S STUDIES
Happy was the day when the rest of the Muir family reached Wisconsin. John had enjoyed helping clear the farm, but he was glad to have his mother with him once more, also his little brother, Daniel, and the three sisters who had stayed in Scotland for a time.

Barometer invented by John Muir in his youth.

In an interesting book, "The Story of My Boyhood and Youth," John Muir tells facts about his life on the Wisconsin farm. He stayed there for 11 years, and all the while worked hard. He cut trees, took care of livestock and ploughed the fields.

Despite all his work, he found a little time to study at home. Obtaining books of arithmetic, algebra, geometry and grammar, he went through them with care.

About five years after reaching Wisconsin, a change came over Mr. Muir. He stopped going into the fields, and let his sons do all the farm work while he sat at home reading the Bible.

That change was important to 16-year-old John, for it meant more labor in the fields, also something else. Mr. Muir seemed to believe that the only worthwhile book was the Bible, and he would not let John stay up in the evening to read books of other kinds. "You must go to bed when the rest of us do," he said, but he added a few words which were like music to his son's ears. "If you must read, you can get up early in the morning!"

There it was, thought John, the great opportunity of his life. At 1 o'clock next morning he rose from his bed. Through months which followed, he kept rising early, only an hour or two after midnight.

Thanks to the extra time, John was able to read dozens of books, including the novels of Scott and the plays of Shakespeare. He also worked on inventions.

With clever hands guided by a clever brain, young Muir carved the parts of a clock from pieces of wood. The clock was put together, and kept time. Later he made another, and better clock. The youth also made waterwheels to use for a sawmill, a lamp-lighter, a barometer to tell in advance that a storm was coming, and a thermometer.

"You ought to take your clocks and other inventions to the fair at Madison," a neighbor said to him one day, and this idea took hold of the young man's mind. He had reached the age of 22 and was eager to go into the big world.

Bidding farewell to his family, he went to the nearest railway station. He boarded a train, but didn't ride in a coach. Instead he was allowed to get in the locomotive and stand beside the engineer. The engineer even let him go to the front of the locomotive and sit on the cowcatcher while the train sped forward at the rate of about 15 miles an hour.

UNCLE RAY

HOROSCOPE

WEDNESDAY, JULY 27, 1938

This is rather an uncertain day in planetary direction, according to astrology. It is promising to trade relations with foreign countries and encourages new commercial channels.

There is an aspect conducive to conflict of opinions and aims. Quarrels and hostile gestures among members of business organizations and government departments may occur.

Astrologers advise care in studying one's own faults and shortcomings before attacking the characters of other persons. The sway is threatening to domestic peace.

Storms imperiling those who travel on the water are prognosticated. Electrical phenomena are presaged as part of the summer's weather program.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of changes in business and social environment which may be fortunate. Profit through armaments is presaged for certain men.

Children born on this day probably will be experts in detail and successful in scientific professions. Subjects of this sign usually are industrious and successful.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

The only remedy for the indolent wife is force. If she knew that she was going to lose her job if she didn't keep her house clean, take care of her children and give her husband food, believe me, she would get busy with the vacuum cleaner, the baby book and the cook stove, for little as she likes domestic work she knows it is far easier and less exacting than pounding a typewriter or standing behind a counter. She knows she couldn't get by with the loafing in an office that she can do at home.

I doubt, however, if any treatment ever cures a lazy person or makes a dilatory one prompt. Maybe they have the hookworm. Maybe they have just an abnormal supply of selfishness and lack of consideration for other people. Anyway, I have never seen either a man or a woman who was born with a constitutional aversion to any form of labor galvanized into action. Nor have I ever seen a dilly-dallier speed up.

So I fear your chances of changing your wife are hopeless. She has no sense of fair-play, or else she would recognize that marriage is a partnership and that it is just as much the duty of the wife to make the home as it is that the husband should make the living. She has not even any sense of responsibility for her children, because she is not willing to take the trouble to see that they get the proper food and rest. She has no love for you, or else she would try to make you happy and comfortable. There is literally nothing that the man with a trifling wife can do but to bear his affliction with what patience he may. No man is more entitled to the sympathy of the compassionate.

Letters to the Editor

THE SALES TAX

To the Editor:—Agitation against the sales tax has succeeded to the extent that some 40-odd building trade items have been exempted. As the building trades have been most severely hit in these lean years, the finance minister believes that these exemptions will be "a powerful stimulus to the construction industry," and he is right.

However, why discriminate in favor of the building trades? The sales tax is expected to yield $125,000,000 this coming year, which means an added $42,000,000 to the consumer through the extra mark-up which the retailer adds on to his cost. Real wages are diminished accordingly, and unemployment is thereby protracted.

More than any other the sales tax is a vicious tax, Ottawa realizes this and has begun to yield to public clamor as the people realize what concealed taxes they are paying. Individuals, organizations and associations should continue to apply pressure until this obnoxious taxation is abolished.

HERBERT T. OWENS.

LEAGUE OF PAIS

To the Editor:—Will you please allow me to bring to the notice of your readers the League of Pais, which is bringing people of all nations together by correspondence? School boys and girls use our medium to exchange stamps, souvenirs, and ideas on sport; older people correspond about innumerable topics, such as politics, business, climate, ways of living, and so on. Many lonely people have had sunshine brought into their lives through the medium of the league.

Our chief aim is to foster friendliness among all peoples, and already there are thousands of members in 60 different countries. In many places there are now groups which organize open-air activities, such as hiking, cycling, tennis and other games during summer; indoor social gatherings during winter. We encourage our members to exchange visits and give advice to facilitate this where necessary.

We are having our first international palloobee this summer in Norway, and we hope to organize these gatherings annually in future, each year in a different country. Many people would like pen pals in your district, and if anyone who is interested will get in touch with the undersigned contacts will be made for them. Anyone over 12 years of age will be welcomed.

NEW ZEALAND AND LEAGUE

To the Editor:—The following was omitted from my recent article on New Zealand on account of lack of space:

"League of Nations—New Zealand government proposed strengthening the League's guarantees against war. Briefly, New Zealand prepared to take its collective share in full economic sanctions, prepared to full extent of their power to join in the application of force against any future aggressor. Economic sanctions to be complete boycott, League able and if necessary prepared to use force against any government proposed international force of armed forces of its members to the extent, if desired, of the whole of these forces."

Chamberlain, Halifax and Company recently threw cold water on the League, saying it was inefficient and then later used it to back up gangster Mussolini's Ethiopia steel."

A MEDICAL ANNIVERSARY

To the Editor:—My attention has been directed to an editorial in the Times, entitled "A Medical Anniversary," which makes some startling statements on which the public should be enlightened.

Certain "epoch-making medical discoveries" refer to (a) insulin as a cure for diabetes, (b) the liver treatment for pernicious anemia, (c) insulin as a cure for dementia precox. I fail to see why these are called "modern miracles."

(a) The firmest proponent of insulin treatment cannot claim it as "a cure for diabetes"; if it were we should not see an ever-mounting death rate; (b) many medical men have made public the possible danger of liver treatment; (c) of insulin given to produce shock there is more to be said. One need not even go to Vienna to learn about it—for the anniversary referred to is in connection with a Vienna hospital.

Insane persons have long been exploited in trying out new discoveries and fashions in medicine (see Lancet, June 20, 1936). We read of "the mass doses of insulin to develop shock" and that "day after day, of set purpose, the patient is put in danger of his life."

The British Medical Association gives a truly ghastly description of the effects of the treatment (April 10, 1937) and on May 7, 1938, Dr. E. H. Shaw, in a letter to this journal, refers to the barbarous treatment of the schizophrenic in mental institutions as "irrational and gross experiment" and as "an unwarrantable and entirely unscientific proceeding."

The shock treatment has been the cause of questions asked in the British House of Commons. Insulin is given to produce shock in persons incapable of protecting themselves. This production, as was predicted at the outset, has not decreased the diabetic death-rate. The products of animal torture do no work miracles. Insulin is also advocated to induce weight, to induce shock—and what next? Well, the more it is used for something or another, the greater will be the monetary rewards, but at a cost so great in human and animal suffering that those who know the truth dare not withhold it. Long ago we were reminded that one does not gather wheat from tares, nor figs from thistles.

ALL-EMBRACING

To the Editor:—There recently appeared an article entitled "No Christian Scientists in Truth Cult."

The writer endeavored to substantiate this claim by quoting Article VIII, Section 16, from the Manual of the Mother Church, First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

I beg to advise you as one in authority that the Royal Fraternity of Master Metaphysicians embraces students of every known school of Truth, and in it are many Christian Scientists.

A Christian Scientist has been clearly defined by Mrs. Eddy on page 192 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," as follows:

"We are Christian Scientists, only as we quit our reliance upon that which is false and grasp the Truth. We are not Christian Scientists until we leave all for Christ."

The disqualification tossed a bombshell into the golfing ranks, the Pacific Coast team accepted the decision in good grace. "It's a tough break," agreed Captain Kenny Black and Jimmy Todd, low scorers of the British Columbia team.

Black was low man for his squad, tied with Sandy Somerville for the 36 holes at 144. Only Somerville was able to beat par on any nine, but he could not carry his performance through 18 holes over the par 70 London Hunt course, his home club.

Black's best was a par 35 for the home nine in the morning, and Somerville cracked regulation figures with a 34 in the afternoon home stretch after a wobbly 39 for the first nine.

On top of it all one new champion today wore a crown, never before up for competition. He is 19-year-old junior player from Jasper, Alta., Jimmy Hogan, who not only played for the Alberta team, but competed simultaneously for the Buckingham cup, presented by Charles Selator of Hamilton for Canadian junior championship play. He posted a 147.

Corrigan's Plane Aboard Ship

With Douglas G. Corrigan, the United States' surprise Atlantic flier, in London for a two-day voyage before boarding the liner Manhattan, July 30, for the return voyage to New York, his nine-year-old plane, dismantled, is stowed in the U.S. Maritime Commission's steamship Lehigh, which soon will leave Dublin for New York. The picture above, showing Corrigan standing beside his plane on the Baldonnel airfield near Dublin, was flown across the Atlantic by the pickaback seaplane Mercury on its first crossing from Britain to New York by way of Montreal.

LONDON (AP)—Douglas G. Corrigan apparently has changed his mind about money-making offers. "When I get back," the young trans-Atlantic flier said today, "I am going to take the best job offered—movies, vaudeville, newspapers, anything." But he is planning a two weeks' tour of the United States first.

Wheat Price Of $1.03 Is Urged

EDMONTON (CP)—The national council of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation today sent a telegram to the Dominion Government urging the Canadian Wheat Board pay a minimum of $1.03 cents a bushel for the 1938 wheat crop delivered to it by producers.

The decision was made at the council meeting today and the telegram was sent by David Lewis, Ottawa, national secretary. The telegram was addressed to the wheat committee of the federal cabinet.

NEW INDO-CHINA LINKS FOR CHINESE

HONGKONG (AP)—Plans for further development of communications between French Indo-China and China's south-western provinces were understood to be involved in a journey to T. W. Soong, former Chinese finance minister, is making through those areas.

It is in the southwestern provinces, such as Yunnan, Kwichow, Kwangsi, Kwangtung, that the Chinese government, now at Hankow, hopes to make its last stand against the Japanese armies. Chinese leaders also hope France will keep open for them avenues to the outside through Indo-China.

Informed persons believed the trip was connected with plans for improvement of railway and highway links between Indo-China and Yunnan, for which French bankers made a 50,000,000 franc ($1,395,000) loan last year.

CLASH IN MOROCCO

CASABLANCA (AP)—Fifteen Moroccan natives and two policemen were injured in a riot last night between Algerian troops and natives. The riot started when natives attacked a group of Algerian cavalrymen whom they accused of mistreating a Moroccan.

SIR H. STREATHFIELD DIES

LONDON (CP-Havas)—The death was announced here today of Colonel Sir Henry Streatfield, 81, who served Queen Alexandra as secretary from 1910 to 1925. He was equerry to King Edward VII in 1908, and prior to that had been war minister in the Boer War.

July Wheat Off Five-cent Limit

WINNIPEG (CP)—July wheat crashed the five-cent allowable limit shortly after mid-session today. Sharp declines at Liverpool, favorable weather conditions in western Canada wheat belts and selling that found only light support were believed to have caused the sharp tumble.

The close found quotations 5 to 10 cent lower with July at 94%, October 75%, November 75% and December 74% to 74% cents.

The drop culminated a two-day decline in the July option. After remaining at levels over the dollar mark all last week, it showed weakness from the start yesterday and continued its dive today.

The deferred months were stronger than July although they, too, relapsed more than a cent.

Trading was dull during the initial half of the session but thereafter nervousness appeared and brief flurries were common.

Liverpool declined sharply and today quotations were 1 1/2 to 2 lower. Buenos Aires was weak and showed 1/2 to 1 1/2 decline at noon.

Export business was at a minimum in Winnipeg and cash wheat trades were unchanged. Only minor interest was evidenced. Fit trade in coarse grains was listless also with some hedging showing in barley and oats. Dealings were at low ebb.

Low Wheat Price Has U.S. Baffled

Despite Government Farm Program Price Is Lowest Since 1933

CHICAGO (AP)—The wheat market, sinking despite strong medicine in the new United States government farm program, had the grain trade baffled today.

Wheat prices have declined to the lowest point since April, 1933. In the face of federal loan proposals intended to give farmers a "fair" price. The inopportune setback has caught wheat farmers in the midst of harvesting.

New wheat for delivery here by the end of the summer is quoted around 68 cents a bushel compared with $1.16 a year ago. Except for 1931 and 1932, when the price fell as low as 46 cents, September wheat has not been that low in July since early in the century. In 1917 it sold as high as $2.34 and in 1929 it was up to $1.51.

VALUE OF CROP

Grain traders now are estimating the market value of the huge 1938 United States crop, the second largest in history, at around $650,000,000 compared with almost $1,000,000,000 in 1937.

Scarcely two weeks ago the government made public two steps designed to bolster the value of wheat—loans on the 1938 crop and reduction in acreage for harvest next year, but the price has declined about four cents since and is, seven to nine cents below the actual figure at which loans can be made here.

Talk of record world wheat production, big crops in important exporting countries and the prospects of a heavy surplus have dominated the market, traders said, more than offsetting any bullish factors.

COMPANY REPORTS

TORONTO—Matachewan Consolidated Mines Ltd. milled 39,501 tons of ore in the three months ended June 30, 1938, and obtained income from metal products of $200,138 compared with $3,029 tons milled and income of $180,000 in the corresponding quarter of 1937. The estimated operating profit was $40,199 compared with $33,175 in the same three months of last year.

TORONTO—First annual meeting here Saturday of Burr Yellowknife Mines was routine. All reports were approved and directors were re-elected.

MONTREAL (CP)—Canadian Commodity Exchange—Spot, butter, Quebec fresh (92 score), 24% to 24% (Quebec seconds (38 score), 23% to 23%.

BONDS Today's Losses Run As Much As Two Points

NEW YORK (AP)—The almost straight up advance of the bond market in recent sessions gave way to uncertain fluctuations today.

Many secondary rails and other corporate issues which have risen sharply this month inclined toward somewhat lower levels.

U.S. treasury loans continued to mark time in a narrow course, setting an example for the highest rated corporate obligations.
